RED ARMY IS GETTING NEAR WHITE RUSSIA

Sixty Miles Left to Cover Beyond Last Forward Positions Reported

DRIVING NAZIS OUT OF BATTERED LINE

MOSCOW, Feb. 11 (AP).—With a battle cry of "On into White Russia," the Red Army smashed doggedly westward tonight, painstakingly overrunning more shattering towns where the swastika had flown along the fortified line which the Nazis tried at heavy cost to save.

White Russia, where the German Army first pushed inside the old Russian boundary last summer, lies thirty miles behind fanatically and some chilly miles beyond the last reported Soviet forward positions in the Torpets-Kholm sector. Its emplaces recapture would set the Germans back into Soviet Eastern Poland, where the first blows of the German-Russian war were struck.

DESPERATE ATTEMPT

But reports from the front said the Germans are persisting in counter-attacks from both flanks of the long basin line in a desperate attempt to beat down the Soviet offensive.

The Russians, however, said they were engulfing battlefields where the Germans had 1,300 men in a single day on the Leningrad front, more than 1,000 in unsuccessful attempts

WANTS LARGER CANADIAN ARMY

Member for Yukon Says Parliament Should Speak For People on Recruiting

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP).—Allied armies must conquer Germany, Italy and Japan and keep them conquered and Canada should have an army large enough to share in that conquest, George Black (Conservative, Yukon) said today in the House of Commons.

Expressing fear the vote in the forthcoming plebiscite would not be in favor of releasing the Government from its anti-conscription pledges, Mr. Black said he was sure members of Parliament could speak for the people and grant the necessary release without a plebiscite.

"As I see it," he said, "we in Canada need an army of at least 400,000 men, well trained, fully equipped with all the up-to-date engines of war, so that they may go with the great armies that the (British) Commonwealth of Nations, Russia, the United States and all the Allied nations must send to invade and conquer Germany, Italy and Japan and keep them conquered."

DISLIKES PLEBISCITE

During the short Wednesday sitting Ralph Maybank (Liberal, Winnipeg South Centre) said he believes conscription will ultimately be necessary, that he dislikes the plebiscite, but there he will support it.

C. J. Vondal (Liberal, Gloucester) said he is ready to support the plebiscite, as opposed to conscription and hopeful it will not become necessary, and Maurice Lalonde (Liberal, LaSalle) said he felt the same way.

J. L. Ilsley (Liberal, St. Maurice-LaFleche) said he would not ask his constituents to release the Government from its anti-conscription pledges.

Former French Liner Normandie Burned

Huge billows of smoke rise from the former liner Normandie, renamed the Lafayette when taken over by the United States Government, after fire broke out when workmen were reteadding her at her pier on the Hudson River. One man lost his life and more than 200 men were injured. The great ship, her superstructure in ruins, now lies on her side on the river bottom. It is estimated that five months will be required to refloat her.

Dutch Sink Four Enemy Warships Off Amboina Base

Two Japanese Cruisers, One Destroyer and Submarine Destroyed—Big Air Thrust at Surabaja Broken Up Over Java Sea—Invaders Move to the East Side of Celebes

BATAVIA, Feb. 12 (Thursday) (AP).—The sinking of two Japanese cruisers, one destroyer and a submarine off the Dutch naval base at Amboina Island recently was announced by the naval commander here today.

Altogether there were three cruisers sunk along with the other vessels in the first weeks of fighting around Amboina Island, but the sinking of one of them had been announced previously.

The commander's report today was evidence regarding him and his ships which he considered conclusive.

The previous report on the fighting off Amboina made in a communique on February 7, which listed the Japanese cruiser as sunk and added conservatively that another cruiser and a submarine had been hit.

Amboina is the Japanese name for Kamboina and they are making it one of their principal bases for operations against Java, forming across the southwest peninsula of Celebes

DUTCH ADMIRAL SUPREME HEAD

Helfrich Succeeds Hart as Director of Allied Sea Forces in Far East

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP).—An admiral of the Royal Netherlands Navy succeeded to the command of Allied sea forces defending the rich Dutch East Indies today as Japanese hordes battered the once-grandiose fortress of Singapore.

The shakeup in command was occasioned, it was officially announced, by the heretofore unrevealed illness of Admiral Thomas C Hart, sixty-four-year-old American, who requested to be relieved of his weighty duties as chief of the combined naval forces in the Western Pacific.

To the place he had held since January 15 the United States Navy Department announced his second-in-command, Vice-Admiral C. E. L. Helfrich. The fifty-five-year-old native of the Indies thus becomes supreme director of Allied naval strategy on the eve of desperate days for the islands' defenders—days which may produce the bitterest naval fighting of the war to date.

CANADIAN WINS HIGH DECORATION

Sqdn. Ldr. Vaughn Corbett Awarded Distinguished Flying Cross—Cited for Keenness

The outstanding flyer, a graduate of McGill University and the Royal Military College, who saw his first combat with the original R.C.A.F. fighter squadron and subsequently led the squadron of Squadron 403, was cited for "keenness and skill in leading all types of fighter operations."

"This officer," said the citation, "led his squadron on numerous bomber escorts over enemy territory in France. Throughout he displayed great skill and leadership, which undoubtedly played a large part in the splendid operation afforded the bomber formation."

U.S. TROOPS ON DUTCH ISLANDS

Protective Forces Sent to Aruba and Curacao, Off Venezuelan Coast

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP).—To thwart any Axis grab for the oil wealth of The Netherlands West Indies, the United States announced tonight that it had sent troops to The Netherlands Islands of Aruba and Curacao, off the coast of Venezuela.

This follows up the Government's action last November in sending troops to Dutch Guiana, on the north coast of South America, to guard the mines producing bauxite, from which aluminum is manufactured.

The size of the forces sent to Curacao and Aruba was not disclosed. An announcement by the State Department said the move was made at the request of The Netherlands Government and that the troops would be withdrawn at the end of the war.

VENEZUELA IN ACCORD

It was understood the statement added, "that the Venezuelan and Netherlands Governments have reached an agreement whereby the former will co-operate in this defence measure in a manner similar to that agreed upon between the Governments of Brazil and The Netherlands in the case of Surinam (Dutch Guiana)."

Curacao proper and Aruba, which belongs to the Curacao group of six islands, are both highly important as oil refining centres. The area of Curacao is 218 square miles, and that of Aruba, seventy square miles. Curacao Harbor has long been an important shipping centre.

KIRKLAND LAKE STRIKE ENDED

Union Statement Says Walk-out Called Off in Interest Of National Unity

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Feb. 11 (CP).—The Kirkland Lake local of International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (C.I.O.) issued a statement tonight in which the union's twelve-week strike against gold district gold mines was "hereby officially declared to be over."

The strike, said at its beginning to affect about 4,000 miners and prospectors was in the eight mines, was called last November 13 with union recognition the chief issue.

The company's statement said the strike had been called off "in the interests of national unity of the Canadian nation in time of war."

FEARS DISCRIMINATION

The statement said the "Government has not yet acted on the union's request for co-operation to prevent discrimination in connection with resumption of work."

The union last week sent a telegram to Prime Minister Mackenzie King offering resumption of full production "in the interests that the Minister would assure the local there would be no discrimination and that seniority rights would be protected."

Regarding its request for this assurance, the union statement said: "It is hoped that this will be forthcoming, and that the mine operators, having accomplished their purpose of maintaining the open shop, will place men on a seniority basis and will co-operate in reasonable normality without unnecessary delay."

A.R.P. BUDGET TURNED DOWN

Vancouver's Request Is Rejected—Dominion Would Pay Half Administration

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP).—Pensions Minister Mackenzie, who has jurisdiction over air raid precautions work in Canada, has declined he will recommend that the Dominion pay 50 per cent of "just and reasonable administrative expenses" incurred to any A.R.P. area.

This became known when Mr. Mackenzie made public a letter he wrote on February 5 to Premier John Hart, of British Columbia, saying that he "cannot approve" a tentative budget drawn up by the Vancouver A.R.P. executive committee Mr. Hart had forwarded the budget to Ottawa for consideration.

The letter disclosed that Mr. Mackenzie's departmental officers soon will complete the task of drawing up a "model A.R.P. establishment," intended to serve as a guide to provincial A.R.P. committees in assessing the requirements of organized areas under their authority.

AREAS IN THREE GRADES

The Federal minister said it was considered advisable to categorize the various areas designated subject to possible enemy attack in three grades—A, B and C—based on the degree of risk in diminishing order.

"Vancouver has, since the outbreak of war, been designated as an area of definite risk and has been so dealt with by my department," Mr. Mackenzie's letter said. "It would be unquestionably in Grade 'A' if such classifications are adopted."

The proposed model establishment

Police and Paraders Injured in Clashes On Montreal Streets

Demonstrations Follow Huge Anti-Conscriptionist Meeting—Windows in Stores and Street Cars Smashed During Hour-and-a-Half Disorder

MONTREAL, Feb. 11 (CP).—At least seven policemen and a number of youths were injured tonight when police battled with a parade of some 300 youths, who marched through the city's East End streets following an anti-conscriptionist meeting.

About thirty plate-glass windows on the east end of St. Catherine Street and a number of street car windows were broken before order was restored about midnight, one and a half hours after the end of the meeting held in St. James Methodist Church.

A number of arrests were made as the city police, aided by motorcycles and mounted squads and the military police, broke up the main body of the parade and then other groups that formed a few blocks away from where most demonstration were made.

Police guards were sent to all the

SINGAPORE MEN FIGHT BRAVELY AGAINST OVERWHELMING HORDE

Battle Reaches Outlying Sections of City—Women and Children Taken Away in Small Vessels Through Rain of Japanese Bombs—Some Success Scored in Counter-Attacks

Arrival of Reinforcements Reckoned as Forlorn Hope

SINGAPORE, Feb. 11 (AP).—British authorities ignored e Japanese demand for unconditional surrender tonight as Singapore's troops fell back on this city under hurricane fire by Japanese tanks, bombers, fighters and bayonet-wielding infantrymen.

A Japanese plane dropped the surrender note at 7:30 a.m., addressed to the British commander. Thus far it has not been answered and bitter hand-to-hand fighting by the outnumbered British Imperials continues on the western approaches to Singapore City.

The communique was issued in Singapore at 5:30 p.m. local time (3:30 a.m., P.D.T.).

Black with the smoke of battle and broken by incessant waves of bombs, Singapore was fighting its last tonight in the outlying sections of the proud island city itself

FIGHT BACK VALIANTLY

Defeat of the bleeding British and Empire garrison and the fall of the 128-year-old base seemed to be a matter of days at most, although the men of Singapore's garrison fought valiantly today, and at times counter-attacked.

Informed quarters reported tiny, sinking civilians to cover the removal of women and children, who were being taken away in small British and Netherlands vessels which darted in and out of the harbor under heavy bombing by Japanese bombs.

Axis radio claims were conflicting. The Japanese claimed that Japanese troops entered the "city area of Singapore" at 4 p.m. local time today (8 p.m. Tuesday, P.D.T.).

ENEMY HELD AT NO POINT

Correspondent Predicts Japanese Attack on Australia In Very Near Future

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP).—Cecil Brown, radio correspondent of Columbia Broadcasting System, said in a broadcast tonight from Sydney, Australia, that the Japanese were being held at no point by the Allies, and predicted an attack on Australia "in the very near future."

Brown, formerly C.B.S. correspondent at Singapore, reported in his New York office last January 11 that he had been barred from broadcasting at Singapore. At that time he stated the British military intelligence officer had admitted that the "peninsular picture painted in some of my broadcasts was certain behind-the-scenes facts," pointed out that the broadcasts never had been censored.

INADEQUATE PREPARATION

In his broadcast tonight from Sydney Brown said: "The whole story of Singapore is not all of Japanese numerical superiority, fanatical courage and brilliant military generalship. Other factors are at Singapore also because of what the British failed in forces.

CHINESE HURL INVADERS BACK

Recapture City in Anhwei Province—Stores Dynamited in Swatow

CHUNGKING, China, Feb. 11 (AP).—Chinese troops in Anhwei Province have recaptured Meng-cheng, 150 miles northwest of Hankow, killing 600 Japanese and hurling the invaders southward across the Kiu River, the Chinese high command tonight

Of 600 Japanese killed at Mengcheng, a communique said, 100 were drowned while trying to cross the river.

Mengcheng is in Northern Anhwei Province above the Yangtze River and the city had been taken a short time ago by some 3,000 Japanese troops who pushed up the Kwo from Nanking.

The communique tonight said 3,000 more Japanese were striking north of the Yangtze in Central Kiangsu.

A Central News dispatch, meanwhile, said 4,000 Chinese guerrillas men had filtered into Japanese-occupied Swatow, Kwangtung province port on the China Sea, concealed Formosa, and had dynamited 50,000 tins of gasoline, 7,000 bags of sugar and rice, and 150 cases of Japanese ammunition stored there.

A remaining fire raged for more than two hours, the agency said.

Urges Speed In Removal Of Japanese

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11 (CP).—Speedier action by the Federal Government in removal of Japanese from the Pacific Coast, Premier Duff Pattullo declared in a telegram sent by Mayors J. W. Cornett and Lionel Bingham.

Victoria Council and there was "increasing irritation and criticism on the Coast over apparent failure of the Government to implement its announced policy of removing Japanese from defense areas." The mayor asked that the Premier be prepared to urge on the best interests of everyone concerned in this potentially dangerous situation.

FORMER POLICE OF JAPAN HELD

Buddhist "Priest" Arrested in California Once Head of Force in Tokio

SALINAS, Cal., Feb. 11 (AP).—A Buddhist priest, sentenced yesterday following Monterey Bay area Japanese evacuation, was arrested several hours at continuous activity which brought the arrest of thirty-six Japanese, including a former Japanese police of fields and seizures of great quantities of contraband.

A raid on a Buddhist temple here netted three "priests" arrested along with a truckload of contraband. One of the three, Rev. Kaya Tamanaha, was described by officers as a former Tokio police chief.

Yasuji Takenyashi, proprietor of a Salinas laundry, was identified as the former Japanese consul at Reno, Nev., and a close friend of Emperor Hirohito's brother.

Agents said the three "priests" and Takenyashi had come in the United States in the last few months.

ENEMY FORCES CROSS SALWEEN

Japanese Take Burmese City Of Martaban — Chinese Troops Go Into Action

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 11 (CP).—Striking Japanese forces have crossed the Salween River above Martaban and are apparently seeking that strategic city preceding the capture of Rangoon, the British High Command said tonight.

The Japanese also were attempting to cross the Salween at a point east bank city of Paan, and a communique said that "the situation, although serious, is in hand with our positions still intact."

Still further north the Chinese Nineteenth Army of the Thailand-Burma-Indochina Theatre, which has been said that Chinese troops going into action for the first time repulsed Japanese attacks in which strong casualties were inflicted and some prisoners captured during the leaders, identified as Thailanders, had supported in that point, it was said.

HEAVY ENEMY CASUALITIES

Lifting the security veil on Sino-Japanese conflict at the month of the Japanese invasion, the British High command said heavy casualties were inflicted on the Japanese in the hills east and west of the city, "but Martaban itself now is believed to be in Japanese hands."

By airline this capital is only eighty miles from Martaban; by railway it is about 140 miles.

Bombers of Marshalls imperilled all the British naval base, the Americans there and the first rail station to the north, Thanbyu, which has been heavily bombed by the Japanese.

AIDING GERMANY IN SPRING PLANS

Vichy Government Reported Turning Toward Co-Operation in Conquest

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (CP).—The Vichy Government is turning toward a co-operation with Germany which is aiding Hitler in his preparations for a Spring offensive against Russia, according to reports by travellers received here tonight from a highly reliable informant in Europe. Reports from Vichy, France by Foaks and Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar of Portugal are believed to be seeking a method of avoiding entanglement in the anticipated Nazi Spring offensive. Vichy France is reported turning the other way.

It is already established that while France's Africa bases are being used for Germany's war supplies for the Nazis, the French themselves are giving no physical co-operation.

Final Dispatch From Singapore Describes Scene

Last Overseas Correspondent to Leave Doomed City Tells of Huge Fires and Terrific Aerial Bombardment—Brave R.A.F. Flyers Battle to Last Against Overwhelming Odds

(Editor's Note: This is the last dispatch from the last overseas newspaper correspondent to leave Singapore.)

By C. YATES McDANIEL

SINGAPORE, Feb. 11 (AP).—The sky over Singapore is black with the smoke of a dozen huge fires this morning as I write my last message from this once beautiful, prosperous and peaceful city.

The roar and crash of cannonade and the bursting bombs which are shaking my typewriter and my hands, which are wet with nervous perspiration, tell me without the need of an official communique that the war which started nine weeks ago, 400 miles away, is today in the outskirts of this shaken bastion of Empire.

I am sure there is a bright tropic sun shining somewhere overhead, but in my many-windowed room it is too dark to work without electric lights.

Over the low rise where the battle is raging I can see relay after relay of Japanese planes circling, then going into murderous dives upon our soldiers, who are fighting back in a hell over which there is no protecting screen of fighter planes.

BRAVE R.A.F. PILOTS

But the Japanese are not completely alone in the skies this morning. I just saw two "wild beasts"—obsolete biplanes with an operating speed of about 103 miles an hour—fly low over the Japanese positions and unload their bomb burdens with a resounding crash.

It makes me rather ashamed of myself, sitting here with my heart beating faster and faster than their old motors, when I think what chance those lads have of getting back in their antiquated machines. If ever brave men earned undying glory, those R.A.F. pilots have on this tragic morning.

There are many other brave men in Singapore today. Not far away are anti-aircraft batteries in open spaces—they must be, to have a clear field of fire.

. . . Pardon the break in continuity, but a packet of bombs just landed so close that I had to duck behind a wall which I hoped would—and it did—screen the blast. . .

KEEP ON FIGHTING

But these gun crews keep on fighting, their guns peppering the smoke-limited ceiling every time the Japanese planes come near, and that is almost constantly.

The all clear has just sounded—what a joke! For from the window I can see three Japanese planes hedge-hopping, not a mile away.

A few minutes ago I heard one of the most tragic two-way telephone conversations. Eric Davis, director of the Malayan Broadcasting Corporation, urged the Governor, Sir Shenton Thomas, to give permission to destroy an outlying broadcasting station. The Governor demurred, saying the situation was not too bad, and refused to direct the order. Davis telephoned the station in question, instructing them to keep on the air but to stand by for urgent orders. We tuned in on the wave length of the station in question. In the middle of the broadcast in Malaya, urging the people of Singapore to stand firm, the station went dead.

At my elbow while I write this last message is Capt. O. K. Pearon, Ministry of Information adviser on censorship, who is breakfasting on biscuits and brandy.

TEN MINUTES TO LEAVE

Henry Steel, Richmond, Surrey, army public relations officer, who has seen us through a bad situation from the Thai border to Singapore, just told me I had ten minutes to pack up and leave.

When Henry says go, I go, so good-bye from Singapore.

F. Y. Tong, Canton, who has been landlord for the Ministry of Information and the Malayan subsidiary of the B.B.C., just showed me three famous Chinese paintings he is carrying with him to the vessel on which the Ministry of Information, the Malayan broadcasting subsidiary, M.B.C., and this correspondent are now embarking with less than a 50 per cent chance of getting clear of this close-beleaguered fortress.

DEFINITELY LAST

I am leaving now in a car which I swear I will put into forward gear and head straight into the Strait of Malacca. I left one car for the Japanese in Nanking in 1937, but never again.

Don't expect to hear from me for many days, but please inform Mrs. McDaniel, Hotel Preanger, Bandoeng, Java, that I have left this land of the living and dying.

S.A. Band Celebrates Fiftieth Anniversary

THE fiftieth anniversary of the Salvation Army Band of Victoria was fittingly commemorated at a dinner held last night in the Orange Hall, Courtney Street, with Adjutant James Habkirk as master of ceremonies. Alderman Edward Williams, representing Mayor Andrew McGavin, tendered greetings from the City Council; ex-Mayor Reginald Hayward and Mrs. Hayward also conveyed felicitations. Bandmaster Max Chalk, who headed the band for the past four years, and now has about twenty-five bandsmen in the unit, spoke briefly, tracing the history of the band. Two members present who played in the band fifty years ago were Sidney Matthews and R. D. Noble. Bandsman Albert Rowles has the longest record of service in the band, having been a member continuously since 1904. Motion pictures were shown by Major C. J. Milley, of the Three Services Centre on Broad Street, and Major Allan McInnes, commanding officer of the Salvation Army here, read messages from Colonel James Merritt, Toronto, and Fred Coggan, Los Angeles, tendering greetings and felicitations to the band.

will endeavor to indicate in proportion to population the desirable number of wardens, auxiliary firefighters and first-aid workers; required strength of utility repair squads and decontamination squads, and numbers and quantities of the various types of supplies.

"It is realized that in areas in which active operations must be continuously maintained, and which would be categorised as 'A,' certain reasonable administration charges may be expected to occur," Mr. Mackenzie said.

FEDERAL CONTRIBUTION

"The Dominion has already, in addition to providing equipment, made certain advances to the provinces to cover organizational costs, and I am prepared to recommend a continuation of such a policy.

"My proposal will be that the Dominion pay 50 per cent of the just and reasonable administrative expenses incurred in any area, when approved by the provincial committee and concurred in by the director of civil A.R.P. (Hon. R. J. Manion).

"I am hopeful that in our proposed model establishment we may be able to suggest the extent to which central supervisory expenses may be reasonably justified. . . .

"In no case, however, shall we be prepared to pay the salaries of regularly employed civic officials, who may be assigned to A.R.P. duties, nor shall we be prepared to pay rentals, or other charges arising from the use of municipal buildings or premises, nor, in view of the fact that only one city in Canada has made such claims, are we prepared to cover retroactively claims for past expenditures.

ON EQUITABLE BASIS

"We propose dealing with all cities and provinces on an equitable basis."

Mr. Mackenzie said the Vancouver budget had some "unusual characteristics." He said it indicated the Vancouver committee had incurred commitments amounting to $4,375 a month and contemplated others amounting to $998 a month—a total of $64,476 a year.

It indicated Vancouver had made a non-recurring outlay of $5,908 and anticipated further non-recurring expenditures of $97,760, the largest single item of which was $80,360 for "fire department auxiliary equipment," of which no particulars were given.

"This is an item for which the Dominion has always considered itself responsible," and we have, upon the requisition of your (Mr. Hart's) committee delivered or ordered substantial quantities of auxiliary fire-fighting equipment, as well as a large number of mobile pumping sets generously loaned by the Province of Ontario, which equipment we shall have to replace. . ."

SOUGHT BY NO OTHERS

"Aside from this major item of equipment (which is presented in such a form that we cannot deal with it favorably or otherwise) this entire budget consists of items of a kind which the Dominion has not been asked to approve for any other city in Canada, including centres on the Atlantic coast in which efficient and effective A.R.P. organizations have been functioning for two and one-half years under conditions or justifiable apprehension of attack at any moment."

The Vancouver budget contemplated setting up a payroll for duties performed in other cities either by regularly employed public officials or by volunteers; that the Dominion pay for various services in Vancouver city premises and salaries of at least nine civic employees, and ten or eleven stenographers as well as other expenses.

"With deep regret and a full sense of my responsibility, both as minister and as a representative of Vancouver, I must inform you that I cannot approve this budget," Mr. Mackenzie said.

MATTER OF CITIZENSHIP

"Every effort should be made to preserve the voluntary nature of the (A.R.P.) work which, in its last analysis, is the duty of every citizen towards his own home, his own property and his own family," Mr. Mackenzie said.

"For a city corporation to ask that compensation be paid for the use of its own facilities would be grossly unfair to the thousands of volunteer workers who give their individual time and energy freely.

"The whole purpose of A.R.P. is to enable a community to supplement its existing emergency service through voluntary assistance with a view to meeting a crisis which may come upon it. . . I should be very reluctant to take any steps which would weaken that spirit of voluntary co-operation."

Council Cuts Grant For Publicity Work After Long Session

Victoria and Island Bureau Annual Estimate of $20,000 Is Reduced to $17,500 as War Measure—Opinions Divided on Business Forecast

BY a vote of six to five the City Council, sitting as an estimates committee, reduced the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau annual grant from $20,000 to $17,500 at the conclusion of a three-hour session early last evening. It was also decided that the five aldermanic representatives to the bureau would become members of the executive, and that bureau directors be requested to regulate commitments from month to month and be prepared to immediately curtail activities if necessary.

Mayor Andrew McGavin opened the bureau debate by commenting that there were indications of a lean tourist season next Summer.

Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan declared that not many more than half of the 103 persons who signed a petition asking for a full bureau grant were city taxpayers. "War has changed the situation on Vancouver Island," he asserted. "The publicity commissioner realizes automobile tourists may be a thing of the past. The bureau wishes to change its tactics and appeal to those who do not travel in automobiles. The contact man formerly at Blaine has been transferred to Seattle through lack of traffic. I believe the contact arrangements to be a waste of money, but do feel that tourist signs owned by the bureau in California should be maintained. War is getting nearer to us all the time. It seems to me energies of the bureau could be redirected. We are past the alert stage here. I understand the Evergreen Playground Association levy on the bureau has been cut from $1,250 to $1,000. The publicity organization is top heavy and very expensive. I think the annual grant could be reduced without any hardship," he asserted.

EXPLAINS PETITION

Alderman S. J. Gadsden explained that the 103 persons who signed the petition paid $18,017 in trades licences and $202,103 in city taxes. "We must think of the future," he urged. "The bureau has built up valuable contacts which are an asset to the community. It would take years to build up what might be torn down," he added.

Alderman John A. Worthington admitted that the Federal and Provincial Governments had reduced publicity estimates slightly, but felt there were many persons in Washington and Oregon who could be induced to visit Victoria.

Alderman W. H. Davies moved that the bureau grant be cut to $15,000, but that the council set aside $5,000 for developing and publicizing attractions in an endeavor to have tourists remain longer in the city. He gave as an example an aquatic garden that could be constructed on the west side of Beacon Hill Park. He thought the council had no right to reduce the bureau grant until it could be proved that trades licences were originally increased in order to provide for its maintenance. He predicted there would be fewer visitors from far away cities, but believed a number would arrive from Washington and Oregon unless the war situation grew more serious.

BANKRUPT COUNTRIES

"We need the tourists' dollars, but what war is won with money?" asked Alderman Morgan. "It takes material and lots of self-sacrifice. We are fighting so-called bankrupt countries now. I understand the bureau plans to reduce advertising and therefore will not need $20,000," he stated.

"Dollars are required for the material you mentioned," Alderman Archie Wills replied. "It seems to me there is a great deal of fear about the situation. In the last war the situation looked hopeless for a long time. We should carry on with our chins held high. I believe there will be a lot of motor tourists next Summer," he asserted.

Alderman Edward Williams recalled the council had provided $20,000 per annum for the bureau during the depression years and thought that sum, or almost as much, could be paid this year.

"We are on an island and entirely dependent upon ships. The tourist trade is one of our most valuable businesses. I have been informed by the Canadian Pacific Railway that there will be vessels to handle a reasonable amount of business. The Sidney-Anacortes ferry will be in operation, and an additional vessel will be placed on the Victoria-Port Angeles route by the Black Ball Ferry Lines," Alderman F. A. Willis revealed.

SUGGESTS BIG CUT

"I think the bureau could operate on a grant of $7,500. In years gone by the city was publicized with $10,000, and even less. The C.P.R. and other companies carry out a great deal of Victoria advertising. I think the contact man could be easily eliminated," Alderman T. W. Hawkins remarked.

Alderman Duncan D. McTavish was sure that the bureau could operate efficiently on less than $20,000.

"There is a fear complex. Now is the time to expend every energy to try and break it down. This year if any we must set out to keep our city on the map," Alderman George urged.

Alderman Gadsden thought private subscribers to the bureau would reduce their contributions if the city cut its annual grant.

Mayor Andrew McGavin stated, "Trades licences were increased when the city was in strained financial circumstances and badly in need of revenue. Licences were not raised in order to increase the bureau grant. We have a war on our hands. We do not know if Japanese will attempt to land here, but the danger zone is at our front door.

"Governments are appealing to us to conserve in every possible way. We are asked to reduce automobile operation. Tires are rationed and gasoline coupons are in sight. We cannot expect tourists to drive from California and Oregon on reduced gasoline allowances. Throughout the Pacific Northwest publicity grants have been reduced.

GRANTS CURTAILED

"Portland has slashed its grant and intends to merely keep an information bureau. The balance of Seattle's grant has been held up. Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon expect to lose the $173,000,000 annual tourist business. Florida and Southwest Atlantic coast cities are feeling the pinch of fewer tourists. George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, receives a salary of $375 per month and $1,100 traveling expenses. He should be rationed.

"This is a real war, and at our front door. The school board budget is $50,000 higher this year. If we have to pay that there will be nothing left for a cost-of-living bonus. I will resign my seat tomorrow and go to the people if Alderman George and Gadsden will follow suit and make the publicity bureau grant an issue," Mayor McGavin challenged.

"I am sorry you made that offer," Alderman George replied. "It is not becoming to the office of mayor, and is not good publicity. I obviously feel you could win on that issue or any other. I feel it is cheap publicity," he claimed.

"Nobody can accuse me of seeking publicity," the mayor answered.

"I regret this has developed into a personal matter," Alderman Gadsden commented.

"Aldermen George and Gadsden hold that strange prewar complex," Mayor McGavin resumed. "I feel tourist trade figures are greatly exaggerated. Not more than twenty persons per day are now traveling between here and Seattle."

An amendment of Alderman John A. Worthington that the bureau grant be cut to $17,500 was then voted upon and passed with six in favor and five contrary.

prepare for and meet at the crucial moment."

Before December 7 British authorities thought a Japanese attack was unbelievable, said Brown, adding they neglected to train their soldiers for jungle fighting, were unable to distinguish between Chinese and Japanese and permitted establishment of what he called an amazing fifth column organization in Malaya.

After the Japanese attack, Brown continued, the British authorities failed to carry out the "scorched earth" policy despite assertions to the contrary, and they created "considerable difficulties" with the natives in Malaya by what Brown termed favoring Europeans in the evacuation of the Island of Penang.

Brown, declaring that "at no point are the Japanese being held by the Allied forces," predicted the fall of Singapore City in from twenty-four to seventy-two hours, said Netherlands Sumatra may be taken, that the fate of Java would be decided within a month, and that "Australia will be attacked in the very near future."

Brown arrived in Sydney by airplane from Batavia, capital of the Netherlands East Indies.

Qualified observers here predicted that Helfrich, in protection of his homeland, would undoubtedly follow a strategy of "no retreats," although at the same time conserving his relatively small force of United States, Dutch and British warships for striking at the Japanese invaders only where the most effective blows could be delivered.

That the Dutch want to strike as hard as possible now was indicated in a dispatch from Batavia yesterday in which a naval spokesman was quoted as saying that a considerable part of Allied forces in the Western Pacific was busy with work not connected with fighting.

Reinforcements apparently are flowing into the Australian-New Zealand area, where a new United States naval command has been set up. American warships reached Wellington only a few days ago. Whether they are also reaching the Dutch East Indies region is not known.

REQUIREMENTS SHOW INCREASE

Saanich School Board's Estimates for 1942 Reflect Growth in Population

An expenditure of $171,[illegible] is called for under the third draft of estimates for 1942, which school trustees of Saanich considered and passed at their meeting last night. Included in the estimates, which will be forwarded to the Municipal Council for its consideration, is an amount of $10,000, to be spread over the salaries of elementary and high school teachers in Saanich as a partial restoration of salary cuts.

Trustees reduced the estimates by $3,495.35 after examining them item by item. Revenue from Government grants will amount to $55,751.15, so that the board will require from municipal revenue the sum of $115,905.92 to cover its needs for this year. Estimates represent an increase of approximately $25,000 over the amounts provided in 1941.

TO OPEN CRAIGFLOWER

Extraordinary expenditures include $3,110 to provide for opening Craigflower School from September to December of this year as a means of alleviating present overcrowding in the municipality's school system.

Trustee Mrs. E. M. Bryce suggested that overcrowding could be remedied if the board would repair an eight-room school at Lake Hill, now unused.

"With the opening of Craigflower School and the extension of transportation services, I don't see why our problems should not be met," Trustee Robert Shanks remarked.

"Opening Lake Hill would provide eight additional classrooms," replied Mrs. Bryce, and at a late hour last night the board was still considering her suggestion that $5,000 be put into estimates to provide for the rehabilitation of the school so as to relieve the pressure on those whose facilities are taxed by the heavy increase in the student population of Saanich.

Island today, but an air fleet trying to reach the main Indies naval base of Surabaya was broken up by Netherlands fighters over the Java Sea.

A Netherlands communique disclosed that the Japanese now have invaded Balangnipa, on the Gulf of Bone on the east side of the Celebes pendulum, as well as making a direct attack on Macassar, on the west side of the peninsula. Additional invasion points in the same area are Maros, north of Macassar, and Djeneponto.

All this is on the lower east shore of the Strait of Macassar, which the invader finally penetrated at great cost. On the western, or Borneo shore, there was no news today from the Japanese who are advancing on Bandjermasin, although 200 evacuees from the rubber port reached Surabaya today.

STEPPING-STONE ISLANDS

Bandjermasin is 300 miles from the Indies naval base; Balangnipa, the new invasion point on Celebes, is at the head of a chain of "stepping-stone" islands which reach some 300 miles to the large island of Flores. Should the enemy reach Flores in force he would be in position for a flanking attack on Java from due east and might effectively bar Australian help from the main island. Java could be attacked frontally, meanwhile, from Borneo.

In Batavia today, however, the official naval publication, Zeemacht, said no one should ignore the possibility of quick-striking air and sea forces flying The Netherlands flag going to liberate the Indies points now occupied. The author, information director of The Netherlands Indies Navy, cited as a perfect example of such counter-blows the attack by United States air and naval units on the Japanese bases in the Marshall and Gilbert Islands.

Meanwhile, the Indies are fighting their delaying battles on the ground in Borneo and Celebes, leaving continual destruction of anything which might aid the invader. Today's communique reported, for example, that losses were inflicted on one Japanese company advancing towards Maros, on Celebes, and it said "the previous destruction which has been ordered has been thoroughly executed."

The defeat of the latest air assault on Surabaya was dismissed in one paragraph of the communique, to wit: "Japanese bombers on their way to Surabaya have been intercepted by our fighters. The formation was broken up and did not reach Surabaya."

Other Japanese planes machine-gunned Fak Fak, on Southwest New Guinea, with slight damage. The Australian Air Force reported enemy bombing of Samari, on the southeast coast of Papua.

B.C. Session Enters Closing Hours With Prorogation Today

Debates Flashing as House Speeds Programme Begun on January 8—Propose Photographing of Valuable Records as Wartime Measure

DRIVING towards its close, which is expected this afternoon, the first session of the Twentieth Legislature was dying hard yesterday. It began on January 8. All through afternoon and evening sittings, debates were flashing afresh on retraced ground. Labor relations, governmental purchasing, preservation of public records in wartime and many other matters were canvassed as the House proceeded with committee reports in the afternoon.

Among the recommendations made by the Public Accounts Committee was one that valuable records in the Provincial Archives be copied by photostatic means and the records themselves removed for safe keeping. It was also proposed that, where time permits, the Province call tenders for the purchase of all supplies over $100 in value. The committee's report that the public accounts had been examined and approved provoked the first debate of the day

REPLY IS MADE

For an hour the House discussed issues already aired before the Public Accounts Committee in connection with construction of the Marblehead Bridge to Kaslo-Slocan, and car purchases in the Department of Agriculture. Captain C. S. Leary, former Minister of Public Works, and Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, rose to reply.

Captain Leary said that the services of the Big Bend Cedar Pole Company, to which he had an interest, in connection with the supply of piling and ferry operation had helped the Province, and that the Marblehead Bridge had been demanded by residents in his riding for twenty years. An effort had been made, he asserted, to discredit himself, on the word of a man who had been disappointed in not receiving a job.

Dr MacDonald explained the method of car purchases followed in his department, where the trade-in of old cars was involved. It had been his practice to have the old cars driven toto a garage and examined, to ascertain their proper trade-in value New cars were then purchased through the purchasing agent, with allowances for exchanges so determined. He had no apologies to make for that system, he declared.

The committee's report was received on a division of 29 to 14, the C.C.F. recording their opposition to the findings of the panel.

OTHER REPORTS

The agricultural committee recommended the addition of a farmer to the game board: the relaxation of shooting regulations to permit destruction of pheasants damaging crops, assistance with lime deliveries at the rate of $1 a ton, and regretted reduction of the bounty on predatory animals in recent years. Resolutions presented by Farmers' Institutes and the Farmers' Advisory Board were reported, and a number recommended as endorsed by the committee.

The social welfare committee commended work being done by the Province through psychiatrists, urged the removal of 400 patients from Essondale to other quarters, to lessen crowding, and reported on examinations made generally into institutions for the feeble minded

The labor committee told of two meetings held in connection with industrial disputes and the present machinery for dealing with them, and of representations made by labor groups for the repeal of Section 5 of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act on the ground that the statute to that particular had not worked well.

Government benches reiterated that the statute would not be reopened this year, because there had been insufficient time to consider the implications involved.

LABOR RELATIONS

General debate on the whole subject of labor relations followed, on a bill by Colin Cameron to amend the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act; by repealing Section 5, by reducing the period in which negotiations for union recognition would take place, and by rewording the collective bargaining clause in the statute

The C.C.F. Opposition declared that the Province had been dilatory in the field of labor relations, and had not taken steps to make labor a full partner in the war effort, as had been done in the United Kingdom and elsewhere. The change proposed to the statute was a slight one, and fully under the supervision and control of the Department of Labor. Action now would improve labor relations, and establish new morale to the war effort, Opposition members contended.

Having already stated that the statute would be studied during the coming year with a view to seeing what changes would be practical and might improve the working of the measure, Government benches made no further reply. Coalition members, however, rose in defence of the Minister of Labor, who, they said, had come in for personal attack. Few men had done more for labor in the last twelve years than Hon. G. S. Pearson, they responded.

The bill was pressed to a division, and was defeated 27 to 14 before second reading, which was refused. The C.C.F Opposition, with Thomas Uphill, Labor, voted for the measure.

Hon. R. W. Bruhn, new Minister of Public Works, was welcomed back in his seat after a prolonged absence due to ill-health.

The House recessed at 6 08 p.m., until 8 30 p.m.

SUPPLY IS GRANTED

Resuming at night, the Legislature granted Supply to His Majesty in the sum of $34,146,996, taking the Supply Bill through all stages, piloted by Premier John Hart. Of the votes, $33,094,292 is for the coming fiscal year, $806,970 for the year closing, and $245,764 to balance books of the year 1940-41.

On public bills in private hands, the House agreed to the withdrawal of a bill by E. E. Winch to amend the Registered Nurses Act; after assurances by Hon. G. S. Pearson that the subject matter would be looked into during the year.

Hon. H. G. Perry opposed a bill to amend the University of British Columbia Act, offered by Mrs Steeves, which would have changed the method of electing eleven governors. Mrs. Steeves proposed that three governors be elected by the Senate, two by the Government, others by different groups, including Farmers' Institutes, organized labor, British Columbia Teachers' Federation, Parent-Teacher Associations, and directly from high schools.

Responding, the Minister of Education said representation by occupation or calling would not work out. Under the bill, labor, agriculture, teachers and parent-teachers would each name governors; while all other groups would be denied, and the Government's own representation would be cut from six to two members. As matters stand, Mr Perry showed, teachers, organized labor, industrial and other bodies are represented on the board

The measure was defeated on a show of hands.

OIL BILL DEBATED

The C.C.F. group withdrew two bills containing amendments to the Shops Regulation Act, dealing with heating to stores, and to the Hours of Work Act, on other points, upon Government representations that these matters would be looked into between sessions. The House passed on to the Peace River oil measure.

Harold E. Winch opposed the lease clause in the Oil Lease Bill, one to amend the Coal and Petroleum Act. Under its terms, he said, the Province could remove the reserve on the Peace River lands, and lease the land upon any terms it desired. The C.C.F believed that the reserve should be maintained, and the lease clause struck from the bill. Mr Winch moved to that effect

T. D. Pattullo returned to an attack on the measure he had opened earlier to the session The Government should continue drilling at the site, and deal with the situation as and when oil was found, as he believed it would be found, he declared. Mr. Pattullo rehearsed the history of the oil companies' dispute with the Province two years ago: and supported the Winch motion, which was defeated on a show of hands. The lease clause was reworded, and ratified.

Mr. Pattullo returned to oppose the next clause, that dealing with the authority of the Government to deal with private or other interests, and to charge a royalty to be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, not to exceed fifteen cents an acre plus fifteen per cent of the gross proceeds from the sale of crude petroleum or natural gas He proposed an amendment, to have the Legislature fix a definite royalty of 12 1-2 per cent, subject to review by the Legislature from time to time.

The amendment was ruled out of order, as one that could reduce the revenues of the Crown. The ruling was sustained on division, by 28 to 16, and the House continued on the bill.

MEASURE PROCEEDS

Mr. Pattullo offered two other amendments, in succession, in an effort to have the fixing of the royalty rate confined to direct action by the Legislature. One proposed that royalty rates would remain as fixed, until other rates were provided by the Legislature. That was defeated on a show of hands Mr Pattullo then reworded his amendment to read, that the rates of 15 per cent, as in the Government measure, remain until other rates were set by the Legislature. That was also defeated, on a show of hands.

The House proceeded with other sections of the measure, ratifying the royalty clause as presented in the bill, and a subsequent section dealing with discretionary right to make regulations governing the whole area in which oil exploration has been going on.

Harold E. Winch moved a six months' hoist before third reading of the bill, stating that the Opposition was opposed to the principle of relinquishing natural resources to private control. The Opposition called for a division on the Winch amendment, and the six months' hoist, which would have killed the measure, was defeated 29 to 16, with Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Uphill voting with the fourteen C.C.F. members in the House.

FINAL BILLS PASS

Sustained on all divisions on the measure, the Government called for third reading and enactment of the oil bill, which then carried. Minor amendments, dealing with rewording only, had been written into the bill.

The Dominion-Provincial agreement went through third reading and enactment, without debate or change, being the principal legislation of the session. Its legislative programme completed, the House passed on to motions on the order paper, sitting late. Prorogation is expected at 3 p.m. today.

POLICE AND PARADERS INJURED IN CLASHES

Montreal newspaper offices when word spread that the youth might raid some of the offices.

During the meeting, attended by a crowd estimated by police to be about 7,000, the youths had shouted against some of the city's newspapers and later small groups of the marchers reached newspaper buildings and demonstrated against conscription but police had little difficulty in moving them along.

Police estimated that about 4,000 people managed to get inside the market to listen to anti-conscriptionist speakers urge them to vote "No" to the forthcoming Dominion plebiscite to which voters will be asked whether or not they wish to release the Government from its pre-election pledges not to introduce conscription for overseas service. An estimated 3,000 or more listened to the address in the square beside the market, at the corner of Ontario and Amherst Streets.

WANT PEACE MOVEMENT

The speakers urged also the start of a "peace movement" and the upholding of the Canadian peoples' "rights." The speakers included Henri Bourassa, veteran Quebec nationalist, Maxime Raymond, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Beauharnois-La Prairie, and Dr. J. B. Prince, president of the Defence of Canada League.

The speakers were frequently interrupted during the meetings by shouts of "No, no, we don't want conscription" Boos went up whenever the name of Conservative Leader Meighen was mentioned. Before the start of the meeting, some shouted "Down with the Jews" and other chorused "We want Camillien." They were believed to be referring to Camillien Houde, former mayor of Montreal, interned for urging residents of the city not to comply with national registration regulations.

The interruptions were so frequent that when seventy-three-year-old Mr. Bourassa rose to speak he asked the audience not to applaud and not to make "too many exclamations because of my age and my character" The audience complied and it was after he finished speaking that they paraded

The youths in the square outside the market swung down St Denis Street singing and shouting "en bas, en bas, en bas la conscription (down, down, down with conscription)."

PARADE HEADED OFF

A number of policemen on foot marched behind the group that did nothing but sing and shout until it reached the corner of Ontario and St Denis Streets. There the parade was headed off and partially broken up by groups of motorcycle police

During the melee Capt. Harve Guimont, of the Montreal City Police, suffered a scalp wound which he believed was caused by a bullet. Constable Gordon MacKenzie suffered facial lacerations and Constable Joe Trudeau suffered leg injuries

As police broke up the parade, the youths scattered on the sidewalks and threw chunks of ice at their pursuers. Hundreds gathered to watch the disturbance and were kept out of danger areas by various police squads

When the first demonstration was broken up police received word that various groups of the youths had re-formed in three different nearby sections. Immediately the police rushed to the scene and again broke up the parade They kept moving from spot to spot until quiet was restored after the youths in their march along St. Catherine Street had smashed plate glass windows with sticks, canes and chunks of ice.

OTHER POLICE HURT

During the various melees after the first demonstration, Lieut. Armand Girard, of the city police, suffered injuries when struck by a piece of ice Sergt. Victor Paquin suffered facial injuries and Constable Delas Lussier suffered minor injuries. Constable Fernand Ledwyn suffered head injuries when struck by a leather-covered steel cane.

During the disturbances, patrol wagons clanged through the area picking up those who were arrested on various charges

Among those arrested was Florian Lebel, thirty, believed by police to be a professor He was booked on charges of assaulting a police officer, fighting and disturbing the peace.

Also arrested for disturbing the peace were Jean Guise, sixteen; Jacques Gagnon, twenty; Lucien Courtemanche, twenty-five; Jacques Champagne, twenty; and Blaise Trybiano, twenty.

GETTING NEAR WHITE RUSSIA

to stop the Red Army on the Central Front, and 800 to one endeavour to stem the Red tide in the south.

Fighting in one of the Winter's worst blizzards around Leningrad, the Russians reported driving the Nazis out of forty-six more fortified points of their battered siege line.

At the southern end of the front Red Star said the Soviet garrison at the Crimean port of Sevastopol drove the Germans back a mile in a bayonet charge.

On the front west of Moscow one Russian unit killed 900 German soldiers and officers, then thrust into the Nazi positions and scattered another German battalion which lost at least 180 men.

SWIFTLY OVERTAKEN

The Russians occupied a school and a church in a town held by the Germans before the Nazis realized the attack was upon them. The attackers then ambushed the first force of German troops rushed up to an effort to regain the town. Later several German columns thrust toward the Russian position from the northeast. The Russians held out under heavy attack for three days until their own reinforcements moved up.

On another sector of the central front Russian ski troops scouted a German strong point guarding a strategic crossroads at Makiaki, ten miles back of the German forward positions. The scouts then led an attacking force through the German lines, seized the crossroads and battered General Von Gil's 216th German Division as it fell back past the town.

Pravda reported that on the southern front the Germans were fighting desperately to hold lines of trenches protected by barbed wire and minefields.

MEASURE OF RATE

Izvestia, Government newspaper, measures the rate of the Russian advance by the fact that Russian troops poured into the village of Mochalki in time to put out fires lighted by retreating Germans.

FIGHTING BRAVELY AGAINST HORDES

Berlin in relaying the announcement said the Japanese troops "penetrated to the town of Singapore."

ALMOST MIRACULOUS

However it was, it was bad. The mere fact that the defenders were counter-attacking at all was regarded as almost miraculous in view of their deficiencies in virtually all arms Ground operations were being carried out with only feeble support from outmoded R.A.F aircraft.

The Battle of Singapore, a United Nations' bastion, which only a few short months ago was regarded as equal to any attack which any part of the world could muster against it, brought reminders of the Allied defeat in Flanders and of Dunkerque

The Japanese air force, like the German air force in Flanders, has mastery of the air, and bombers were preparing the way for an attack by land forces estimated at not fewer than three divisions, or somewhere between 45,000 and 60,000 men.

COURAGEOUS THRUSTS

The counter-attacks, courageous thrusts by men staking their lives against overwhelming odds for democracy's freedom, were likened to those which erupted from the perimeter of Dunkerque They were attacks the only object of which was to kill the enemy and win time

Later the Singapore radio was heard in London shortly after 6 p.m. (11 p.m. in Singapore and 9 a.m. P.D.T.) stating the situation was "very serious," but that it had "not deteriorated in any way."

"The Japanese attempt to advance is still meeting with strong resistance," said the message, most of which was unintelligible due to poor receiving conditions.

Earlier London had announced the desperate counter-attacks, which were said to have scored "some measure of success."

Nevertheless British commentators acknowledged all the defenders could hope for was to postpone the apparently inevitable fall of the island, which was written into the Allies' original plans as the key to their Far Eastern defences.

A FORLORN HOPE

There was one "if" in the situation—the possibility of arrival of reinforcements, chiefly air; but this was reckoned beforehand as only a forlorn hope. The Japanese already are at a point where they threaten Singapore's reservoirs, food supplies and vital services

The Malaya Broadcasting Corporation announced from Batavia, capital of The Netherlands East Indies, that all useful installations and stores at Singapore had been blown up to keep them from the enemy.

"Heavy fighting was to progress on Singapore Island this morning," the Batavia radio said. Japanese planes were said to have been attacking British forward areas, the railway station and harbor.

COUNTER-ATTACKS

Commentators here said that one of the British counter-attacks was aimed at the Japanese line from Sungei Kranji, on the Johore Strait northwest of the City of Singapore, south to the village of Jurong

Another was reported made against the enemy line southeast from Sungei Kranji to the mid-island village of Mandai.

Officials here denied yesterday's claim that the causeway connecting Singapore Island with the mainland had been repaired, and that the invaders were moving over it, and denied also a Japanese claim that all of the island's airfields were in Japanese hands. The Japanese hold only Tengah airdrome on the northwestern part of the island, it was stated officially.

FLOOD EXPECTED

The first was the evident worry of Government leaders over a flood of protest expected to follow the loss of the fortress. The Government will be faced with an opposition gathered behind the person of one man—Sir Stafford Cripps, recently resigned Ambassador to Moscow and an advocate of strong aid for and collaboration with the Soviet Union.

London freely predicted that the fall of Singapore would mean Sir Stafford would replace the Secretary of War, Capt. Henry D. R. Margesson, who has been under opposition fire almost ever since he assumed office in December, 1940, in succession to Anthony Eden.

The second problem arising is that of the future strategy of the war in the Pacific, the need for a new base from which the Allies can operate.

Australian representatives are plumping hard for their country as the centre of the war effort, with Batavia as an operational outpost, but tonight it seemed more likely that Burma would be the mainspring of Allied efforts against the Japanese in Malaya, with the British and American navies based on Trincomalee in Ceylon.

BROADCAST UNINTELLIGIBLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP) —The Singapore radio was heard in London tonight at 7 a.m., Thursday, Singapore time (3 p.m., P.D.T. Wednesday).

"Reception, however, was so bad that the text of the broadcast was unintelligible," said the B.B.C. announcer, heard here by C.B.S.

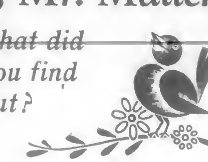
Amosan For Pyorrhea—Gingivitis

Well, Mr. Mallek what did you find out?



When Mr. Mallek left for the East some three weeks ago, he promised to give us all the NEWS when he returned.

Well, he reported to your reporter this morning and what he had to say was INTERESTING in the extreme.

First of all, he told us that he bought on just as extensive a scale as ever, and much to his surprise, from just as great a variety of styles and fine imported woolens as in any previous year.

Mr. Mallek promised he would find and purchase the pick of the market for his customers in Victoria, and how well he has done so will be evident to the most critical. Buy what you can with a due regard for those financial obligations that must come first with all of us at this time—and, suggests Mr. Mallek, more especially buy all you can of the better imported woolens in Dresses and Coats. If you have any special questions Mr. Mallek will be glad to tell you personally his impressions as to future probabilities.

"ENTIRELY SATISFACTORY" TO OTTAWA

Mr. J. T. Thorson, Minister of National War Services, says the present flow of recruits for the armed services of Canada is "entirely satisfactory." It was a similar complacency that regarded the reinforcements sent to the Malayan Peninsula as adequate, that maintained that Singapore was impregnable. What Japan is doing in the Southwestern Pacific continues to provide no object lesson for the powers that be at Ottawa. They are to take a plebiscite on the subject of authority being granted by public opinion for the conscription of man-power to be sent, according to Mr. St. Laurent, the Minister of Justice, "if the need arises," to Labrador, to Newfoundland, to Alaska, perhaps to some other point in the United States. If Mr. St. Laurent is to be believed there is to be no conscription of man-power for the War where the War is. In the recent by-election in Quebec East, Mr. St. Laurent's campaign manager was Mr. Oscar Drouin, a Minister of the Godbout Cabinet, and Mr. Drouin told an audience during the campaign that "when the time of the plebiscite comes, I pledge myself to ask the electors to reply in the negative." Among those who sat on the platform with him was Mr. C. G. Power, Canada's Minister for Air.

There is no authority as decreed by public opinion needed for the conscription of man-power. That policy, in time of emergency, is a law of the land. Judging from the statements of Mr. King's Cabinet Ministers the Government at Ottawa will not necessarily be bound by the result of the forthcoming plebiscite. The Toronto Telegram goes so far as to say that "Mr. King has made it plain that his course will not be affected by an affirmative vote on this question," and that "Quebec has been told by no less an authority than Premier Godbout that Mr. King has always been against conscription and will not impose conscription." The same paper alludes to "a statement attributed to Mr. Thorson that an affirmative answer does not mean conscription but would be a vote in favor of retaining Mr. Knig at the head of the Government."

It is symptomatic of the Government's attitude in opposition to the all-out participation of this country in the total war which is being waged against the United Nations, that one Minister after another is proclaiming that voluntary recruiting is "entirely satisfactory." On Tuesday Mr J. L. Ralston, the Minister of National Defence, said that the active military forces of the country at home and overseas would require from 90,000 to 100,000 men, in the next twelve months, but this figure contemplates no additional units. The vast bulk of these men will be required for reinforcements to existing units, and how far Mr. Ralston has taken into account the possibility of the overseas forces becoming engaged in battle is not known. He is banking on the voluntary system to keep existing units up to strength, whatever the nature of the hostilities. He admits he does not know what lies ahead, but at some indefinite date, if he finds the voluntary system is failing, as it has failed not once but several times during the present War, he will feel it his duty to advocate conscription. Thus the building up of the army is, for the time being, to be confined to voluntarism. Those who want to don the uniform in a spirit of patriotism can do so. All others, physically fit and within the age requirements, can carry on their ordinary avocations as if there was peace on earth, and there are hundreds of thousands of them doing just this today and not engaged in work which is essential to the winning of the War. If Japan had not had conscription, does anyone suppose that she would be carving out her present path of conquest? Japan is only one of Canada's enemies and all of them are engaged in total war and have organised their man-power and their resources to the limit.

RUSSIA AFTER THE WAR

Mr W. H. Chamberlin was for twelve years the Moscow correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor. There are few men better qualified to speak upon the problems that have arisen as a result of the new alignment of world Powers united for the defeat of Hitler, and particularly those that are likely to arise when Hitler has been defeated. In a recent essay Mr. Chamberlin undertakes to deal with the question as to what role Russia is going to play in the international drama after the war is over. What are to be the relations existing between the Soviet Union, with its 170 million people accustomed, under the old regime and the Communists alike, to unquestioned state power and those democratic states which cherish a tradition of individual liberty and initiative? The answers to these questions are of equal interest to the Americans and to ourselves.

As everyone knows, the old rulers of Czarist Russia made no effort to induce the rest of the world to adopt the Czarist conception of government. The Bolshevist Revolution, on the other hand, was conceived by Lenin and his friends as only the beginning of a world revolution and, in particular, a revolt against capitalism. Everyone knows, too, that there was a close bond and an effective working arrangement between the Communist International and the Soviet Union under Lenin, and that a vigorous campaign of infiltration, agitation and underground organisation was carried on in many foreign countries. They were particularly active in France.

In Mr. Chamberlin's opinion it was the Communists that undermined French morale and led to the fall of France. The record, he says, is clear and indisputable. Almost up to the outbreak of the War the French Communists, acting as the agents of Moscow, did everything they could to push their country into the conflict. When the Stalin-Hitler Pact was signed they immediately became defeatists. In June, 1941, they executed a new about-face, but in the meantime their "Russia first" policy proved a national disaster for France.

In the United States, on the other hand, the Communists have never been anything more serious than a nuisance. Had Hitler decided to bring his chief force to bear upon Britain instead of Russia the Communist nuisance in America would have become a much more serious matter. When Hitler attacked Russia he converted the Communists into interventionists. Mr. Chamberlin does not conceal from himself or from his readers the possibility that the world might have to face a difficult situation if, after the war, the Russian colossus were to bestride most of Europe and a large part of Asia. On the whole, however, he is of opinion that when the War is over Russia will "forswear the mirage of a world revolution, scrap the machinery of subversive intrigue and propaganda that is represented by the Communist International," and face the world as a nationalist state like other states, willing to "live and let live." Russia, he thinks, is likely "to emerge from the conflict with conservative rather than revolutionary objectives in foreign policy."

A PREREQUISITE TO REHABILITATION

As a long range policy and as a part of political and economic wisdom the decision of the Legislature to establish a "Post-War Rehabilitation Council" makes sense. That its composition is to be made up so largely of politicians is perhaps also desirable inasmuch as they will have to do with whatever legislation is considered desirable in the course of the years to come. There is, however, a handicap under which this Rehabilitation Council will operate and that is the complete absence of any knowledge of what will be the nature of the peace. If this could be known the task of this body would be so much the easier, but it is a matter that still rests on the lap of the gods. Because of this, whatever the Rehabilitation Council will advocate from time to time will be tentative. For the time being those men who are going to confine their energies to discussing after-war problems might well be far better employed in putting their backs into the winning of the War. There is a long, long way to go before rehabilitation will be needed. There is a hard, hard road to travel out of the political dalliance that is being pursued, from beneath the pall of banal propaganda that tells the people of this country how "marvellous" their war efforts are. The complete and all-absorbing task is the winning of the War. That is the imperative prerequisite to the winning of the peace. Until much more is being done to achieve victory the discussion of any rehabilitation council may well deal only with hypothetical conditions.

M. RISTELHUEBER

The Vichy Government is sending a continuous supply of material, including gasoline, to General Rommel's army in Libya. This is one of Unoccupied France's ways of collaborating with the Axis Powers. Meantime Canada maintains diplomatic relations with Vichy and allows a minister of the Petain Government to reside in Ottawa and carry on as if he were the representative of a friendly Power. M. Ristelhueber, the minister in question, must have matters of interest to communicate to the friends of the Axis, and no one may suppose that he is suppressing anything of importance that will help the plans of the aggressor. Such a minister's communications are not interfered with by the censorship.

That a condition of this kind should be allowed to obtain is not only an anomaly but a crime. It is a crime because of the possibility that information disseminated by M. Ristelhueber could endanger the lives of Canadians fighting overseas and the safety of convoys sailing from an Eastern Canadian port. There is no longer any doubt that Vichy is hand in glove with the enemies of the United Nations. If Canada is one of the latter why does she entertain M. Ristelhueber in her midst and give him all the customary diplomatic immunities which, because of the Government he represents, can be translated into acts of treachery?

"So," says The London Sunday Chronicle, "we have four-fifths of the human race on our side. Does that entitle us to look for easy victory over the remaining fifth? It does not, for that fifth, armed to the teeth, is organised for one purpose alone—conquest. Just as one small, well-armed, disciplined force of troops, or even bandits, can hold down a population of large unorganised civilians, so can one-fifth of the human race impose its will on the other four-fifths unless they combine to work and fight. The combining is accomplished, and now the work and the fighting must be done."

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Once a year at least people should take out their vocabularies, to examine them. The average vocabulary will be found in a distressing condition, poor thing. Even the best of them will have suffered a little from the mental laxness of the times. The task is akin to scraping barnacles off a boat that has lain idle for long in tropical waters. Modern vocabularies need to be scraped, at least once a year, with a decennial revision of a more drastic nature.

* * *

Look at the barnacles! How often does one read "very good," where "good" would have a stronger meaning? Look at the large number of things declared to be "absolute," when experience teaches that there are few, if any, absolutes about life. It is the same with "definite," and with its objectionable companion, "definitive." Have you found an end to anything in this world? I have not.

* * *

It is a rarity today to find a man who will state his case simply. Yet the English language is seldom so strong as when it is simple; and then its appeal is the widest. "Cain slew Abel," we are told in one of the simplest and strongest passages in the Bible. Today, both Cain and Abel, and the act itself, would be so coated over with adjectives that most of the meaning of the passage would disappear. Verbs do the work in the English tongue, not adjectives; which are strap-hangers at best, taking a ride in an already crowded vehicle.

* * *

You should, perhaps, examine it for yourself. Do you "believe" or "absolutely believe"? Is a mile, to you, a mile; or "a very great distance"? The book you have now put down, is it just a book, or is it "a definitive work to end all other works on the same subject"? Do you think kindly of Mr X., or do you merely "think a lot of him"? Is sunshine a help in your business—and it should be—or is it "a very great help"? Are you looking forward to seeing an event, or are you "just terribly excited," and, possibly, "absolutely thrilled" about the whole thing? The list is long; but not, you will be kind enough to note, endless.

* * *

In a sense what is happening, at least to the spoken word, is that people are losing something of the knack of emphasis. Say aloud, for example, "He ran for his life." "He" probably did not, but that is of little consequence. The point is that five words chosen at random can be spoken in a variety of ways with different emphasis, and each way will convey a different meaning. The valuable part of language, its best excuse in fact, is what is conveyed. "Cain slew Abel" conveys much; so much that the world has not caught up with it yet.

* * *

The trend is toward superlatives, and it is a foolish trend. Not many events in life can be "extraordinary," and only one of its kind can be "unique." "All" will often take in too much territory; and if a thing "goes without saying" there is little excuse to mention it. My excuse for mentioning anything so obvious as the muffling of the spoken, and written, word, in to many overcoats is that once a year I do take my vocabulary out to have a look at it. This year, I give you my word, it is "absolutely in an extraordinary, terrifying and totally unaccountable condition." I blame the session; but then again, is that fair? The fault may be mine!

The Observation Car

By G.R.

By G. R.

City detectives are preparing a warm welcome for two youths at present canvassing householders. One of the bright lads called on Vancouver Street housewives Tuesday afternoon and asked them to guarantee him four cents per week so that he could enter a contest and take a course in commercial aviation. One lady whose husband happens to be very close to the police department asked one of the enterprising men to call again when the man of the house was at home, but he replied, "Oh no, I cannot do that. Rules of the contest do not allow me to call at a house a second time." If the boys want to fly, the R.C.A.F. would probably receive them with open arms . . . Note from Hubert, "Not long ago I heard two friends discussing a parade of one of the local units. One chirped, 'Say, Harry. What was wrong with the drums last night? Who was responsible? It seemed to me that it was a case of someone missing the beats.' Back came the reply, 'Oh, I was on the drums. Missing beats, eh? You think it sounded rotten?' Then the first answered, 'It sure did, Harry. In fact, it seemed as if you were beating the misses from the row you made.'" . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, slipped into a department store during his lunch hour and industriously pawed through a pile of shirts. "I want to look through your shirts for a friend of mine," he remarked to a clerk. "You will not find him there," the clerk grinned . . . "I think I will leave for the farm to mix up some punch for my birthday party," the Keating Squire remarked to a friend on View Street. "You will need some liquid courage to look at all the candles on the birthday cake," the friend laughed.

OLD AGE PENSIONERS

Sir,—Will you please allow me space in your valuable paper to state the following particulars:

A committee was formed sometime ago to create a fund for the "Old Age Pensioners Christmas Cheer" and anticipated having a tag day to supplement subscriptions given by the public by other means. For some reason or other we were not able to get this tag day granted by the City Council and seeing that the Provincial Government is arranging to give an additional $5 per month, the committee deemed it advisable to abandon the idea of the said tag day.

There is now in the bank standing to the credit of this fund the sum of about $500 and after inquiries put to several of the large donors, especially the Yarrows employees, who contributed $160 solely for the benefit of the old age pensioners of the association, the committee has decided to make a part distribution of these monies to the members of the Old Age Pensioners' Association forthwith. This will absorb a certain amount and will leave a nice balance over which will be placed to the credit of a special emergency account to deal with other old age pensioners who are in need of immediate assistance and other necessitous cases affecting the pensioners as they arise from time to time. The committee thought that this would be the best way of getting over the difficulty for the distribution of this fund, as under all the circumstances and owing to the absence of the said tag day, the amount collected is insufficient to give anything like an adequate allowance to all the old age pensioners, numbering something like 1,200 or so, at the present time. The committee is desirous of keeping faith with the public by giving a small amount to members of the association who are in immediate need of assistance—pending the receipt of the additional grant from the Provincial Government.

We thank the Government for kindly giving at long last the much needed $5 extra which we feel sure will be a stepping stone towards reaching our objective of $1 per day at the age of sixty-five years.

On behalf of the association I wish to thank all donors who have subscribed to the Christmas Cheer fund.

The distribution of part of the said fund will be carried out at our special meeting, for members only, of the association to be held in the lower hall of the First Baptist Church, Quadra Street, on Thursday next, February 12, at 2:30 p.m., and as the meeting is a very important one it behooves all such members to make a special endeavor to be present.

G. A. DYSON, President.
The Old Age Pensioners' Association, 1442 Camosun Street, Victoria, B.C., February 9, 1942.

BIBLICAL QUOTATIONS

Sir,—To the several inquirers and others interested re Bible quotations and the source of my statement on punctuation, I hereby refer them to the following, taken from the Encyclopaedia Brittianica, page 788, quote: "In the earlier forms of writing, the letters ran on continuously in lines, only by degrees were words divided up by spacing within the lines; later came the introduction of Auldus Manutius (sixteenth century) of a regular system for these."

J. W. GREEN
229 Tolcross Avenue, Victoria, B.C., February 9, 1942.

FOOD MARKETING ACT

Sir,—It has been again reported in the press that the Victoria real estate agents, at one of their monthly luncheons, are still wanting to see the present British Columbia Marketing Act repealed to remove all restrictions on the production and marketing of agricultural commodities.

As this is a matter of vital concern to farmers and food producers it would seem reasonable that the producing farmers should determine if they are in favor of this Act, as it directly affects the marketing of their products.

It would be strange if the farmers and food producers were to have a luncheon meeting every month and then pass resolutions for publication demanding that the Government ditch the present act which imposes restrictions on all commission agents who sell real estate. In this case it is highly probable that the farmers and food producers would be advised to mind their own business.

Farmers and food producers will always welcome any constructive suggestions that will improve the operation of the British Columbia Marketing Act to insure greater stability to farming and food production as a basic industry.

No farmer or food producer wants to grow potatoes, strawberries or any other commodity and ship them to market only to find that through free and disorderly marketing his returns will not cover his production costs.

Free and disorderly marketing plays into the hands of the middleman at the expense of both the producer and the consumer. Orderly marketing will insure a steady increase in the supply of food commodities at a reasonable price level for both the producer and the consumer, thereby reducing scarcities and surpluses accompanied by violent fluctuations in prices, which always provide opportunities for extra profits for middlemen.

As I pointed out in a previous letter the real enemies of this marketing act are not the farmers and food producers.

SYDNEY PICKLES
Hon. President, Dist. "A," Farmers' Institute of B.C., Sunstead Farm, Saanichton, B.C., Feb. 9, 1942.

ON THE RECORD

—By DOROTHY THOMPSON

FIRING OF THE NORMANDIE

From 1933 to 1939, three French liners caught fire in their various docks and harbors. All these catastrophes were suspected as sabotage. Now the Normandie, as I write these lines, is burning and this is almost certainly sabotage, however much the authorities choose to play it down. Victims in the Roosevelt Hospital are convinced it was. They said fires broke out all over the place at one time. They also testify that inspection has been casual—that no one on the ship had been searched for that which he might have been bringing on board in his pockets and that numerous workmen of German and Italian origin have been employed. Furthermore, this will be one of many acts to come, unless I greatly misunderstand the situation in this country.

The whole world is honeycombed with a gigantic conspiracy, which is an integral part of the Axis war. This conspiracy is unlike anything that was organised in the last war. It does not consist merely of the usual spies and agents, but of organised revolutionary Fascist groups. The centres of these groups are not to be found amongst refugee "enemy" aliens, but amongst naturalised Germans and Italians who are members of such organizations as the Bund and such pro-Fascist societies as Don Alighieli, the after-school and after-work clubs (the Dopo Lavoro idea), the Fascio Filippo Corridoni in Cleveland, the Fascio in Pittsburgh, the Fascist League of North America, the Association of Industrialmed Operai Italo-Americani, the Italian War Veterans, the club Mario Morgantini—to name a few.

These Axis instruments were allowed openly to organise in this country under a fatuous conception of the rights of free speech which prevented any adequate statutes being devised to prevent their activities. I remember that when I once made a slight demonstration of disapproval in a Bund meeting in New York, which was occupied and guarded by uniformed storm troopers, I was taken to task as trying to interfere with civil liberties—the civil liberties of traitors bent on destroying the United States in the interests of Hitler's Germany.

CANNOT BE "DISSOLVED"

These bodies have now been "dissolved," but their membership and leadership have simply been spilled into society. Organisations such as these cannot be "dissolved." Hatched in a conspiratorial atmosphere, they are organised through numerous leaders and sub-leaders, and the only way they can be dealt with is by putting these leaders and the membership itself under lock and key.

Both have made a business of permeating every social and occupational organization they can reach, including the trade unions. Since they are organised along racial and ideological, not national lines, most of them will be found to be American citizens.

I do not know whether the F.B.I. has managed, by counter-espionage, to acquire membership lists and the names of sub-leaders and officers, but if it has not it has been seriously negligent. I certainly do not like to entertain the thought that any of the grey-uniformed plug-uglies that were acting as bouncers for the Bund meetings a few months ago are now working in American munitions works or shipyards. But unless they are in jail they probably are. Hitler is their Fuehrer—or Mussolini—and the President is Mr Roosevelt, whom they strongly favor removing from society altogether.

The Department of Justice is headed by an enlightened and humane man, Mr Francis Biddle, who certainly wishes to avoid witch-hunting and hysterical persecutions. In this we are all to be congratulated, for hysterical persecution will get us nowhere and will, indeed, spoil our cause. We do not wish to turn Nazi in order to defeat the Axis, but we have a specific problem on our hands. There are specific groups who are not quite as trustworthy as rattlesnakes. And loving kindness will not convert them.

Those who joined these societies knew exactly what they were doing. They were organising in this country in the interest of hostile foreign powers who were laying through them the groundwork for war and revolution. They do not deserve one ounce of pity, except as the whole human race deserves the mercy and pity of God.

SUB-LEADERS AT LARGE

I have watched to read of the arrest of Bund Gauleiters. A few of the top ones are in jail on charges that conceal the real reasons why they should be there. But the sub-leaders and members are still at large, as far as I know.

In dealing with such a conspiracy it is questionable whether the usual methods of the Department of Justice are adequate. Trade unions must be made responsible for their members and instructed to watch suspects. Every trade union should undertake a thorough investigation on its own of its business agents. Absolutely reliable people among the German and Italian population, such as the members of the Mazzini Society and the loyal Americans of German descent should be asked to help.

This column was warned over a month ago, on January 14 to be exact, by a member of one of the unions working on the Normandie that shenanigans were going on on that ship. I advised my informant to turn his information over to the F.B.I., which he told me he had done.

Whether Americans know it fully or not, this is the most critical year in our entire history, and before next Summer we may know whether the United States is still a great world power or a cowering island outflanked in two oceans, and with exultant enemies right here on our soil.

Tides at Victoria

FEBRUARY

Time of tides (Pacific Standard Time) at Victoria, B.C., for the month of February 1942

Date	Time	Ht.	Time	Ht.	Time	Ht.	Time	Ht.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

The time is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian West. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning. To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 18 feet to the height of high water as above given.

LONDON (CP).—Hundreds of ice-cream wagons have been converted into huge "urns" and at R.A.F. stations steaming cups of tea are passed out to airmen returning from long flights over enemy territory.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of February 12, 1892)

Nomenclature.—The City Directory is not the book that the majority of people would pick up in the expectation of finding interesting reading between its covers. And yet it is not such a dry book after all. Williams' last publication tells us that the largest family in Victoria is the Smith family, which has 170 representatives here. This is exclusive of one Smidt and three Smythe—with the "y." There are in Victoria 75 adult male Andersons, 66 Bakers, 65 Browns, 59 Camerons, 50 Campbells, 61 Johnsons and Johnstons, 74 Joneses, 180 "Mc's," principally of the McDonald Clan, and 63 Wilsons.

A Scratch Match—Yesterday afternoon a most exciting scratch game of Rugby was played between two teams picked from among the leading thirty of the Victoria club. The sides were captained by Morris and Roberts, respectively, and the game was fast and lively all through.

Members' Cognomens—Some one of the playful members of the Provincial Legislature was around yesterday morning and succeeded in "putting up a job" on several members of the House. For instance, the desk of Mr. Forster was labeled "single tax," and that of Mr. Cotton was duly inscribed "Independent leader." Some of the "Mr." signs were made to read "Mrs." which presumably signified that the members thus designated were old women. And yet there are some people in this world who cannot appreciate genuine refined wit.

EASY FOR AN ENEMY AGENT

Normandie Wide Open for Saboteurs—Disguised Reporter Aboard Two Days

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—Criticism of alleged official carelessness in guarding the Normandie, of the alleged lack of synchronization of effort in attempting to save the 83,423-ton pride of the French merchant marine, and of asserted disorganization of volunteer services at the scene of the fire was expressed freely in New York's newspapers today.

The $60,000,000 liner caught fire at her Fiftieth Street pier Monday and capsized, perhaps a total loss, early yesterday. Whether sabotage was involved was a question freely asked.

Particularly caustic was PM, which disclosed in a copyrighted article yesterday how Reporter Edmund Scott spent two days aboard the Normandie disguised as a longshoreman to show how easily the vessel could have been sabotaged by an enemy agent. The article was written January 3, but PM did not publish it at the time as "it was a blueprint for sabotage."

Scott's copyright story to PM told how, as a longshoremen, he wandered over the Normandie lighting imaginary fires and planting imaginary bombs Scott said a "real enemy agent" could get into the longshoremen's union "the same way I got in—through the connivance of abusiness agent who was so eager to sell membership he knocked off four-fifths of the initiation fee"

Scott said that at one place on the ship there were some twenty barrels packed with excelsior, their tops open. "I could have dropped a lighted match in every one of the barrels without being seen by anyone," he said

PM, in an article on the fire scene, said "the American Women's Volunteer Service brought a mobile canteen to the scene. The ignition key opened the rear of the truck. The driver lost the key. For hours the canteen stood in its place, useless.

"A borrowed British Ambulance Corps ambulance, parked near the pier exit, stood by, waiting for injured men. When they got some, they stayed at the scene, uncertain where to take the victims"

Former Resident Of Victoria Is Reported Killed

Second Lieutenant Thomas (Tony) Ellison Godman, D.S.C., R.N.V.R., has been killed in action, according to word received in Victoria during the week.

Lieut. Godman lived in Victoria as a child and was the only son of Mrs. Josephine Godman and the late Captain F. T. Godman, who was killed in action during the last Great War.

For years Mrs. Godman, who was a daughter of the late Rev. Mr. Ellison, well-known pioneer of Vancouver Island, lived in Esquimalt, but gave up her residence there to join her son in England several years ago and has been engaged doing war work for some time.

Lieut. Godman was a frequent visitor to Victoria, while his mother lived at Esquimalt. In the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve, he was called up at the beginning of the present war and was in command of an evacuating vessel at Dunkirk where his gallantry in rescuing troops was recognized with the Distinguished Service Cross. He had latterly been serving on convoy vessels

"THROWING ALL KINDS OF FLAK"

First Operational Flight Over Enemy Territory Gives Flyer Real Scare

A ROYAL AIR FORCE STATION SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Feb. 11 (CP)—Take it from Sergt. Jim Gilfoy, Calgary, there's nothing like that first operational flight over enemy territory to give you a real good scare.

Gilfoy, a twenty-two-year-old wireless operator-air gunner to the Royal Canadian Air Force, doesn't mind admitting frankly he was more than a little worried that first night he went to Hamburg as tail-gunner in a big Whitley bomber

"We were stooging along when a couple of lights came up and flak followed on our starboard side," he said. "Then a blue light—that's one of Jerry's master searchlights—hit the turret and blinded me. They had us clamped for about fifteen minutes and were throwing all kinds of flak at us

"I was sitting to the turret covering my face with my hands every few minutes."

Suddenly, a blast under the tail lifted Gilfoy's machine into the air and it plummeted from 13,000 feet to 6,000 feet before the pilot brought it under control again

"I guess Jerry thought he had hit us, because he left us alone and we bombed from 5,000 feet instead of from the usual height. I could see the docks clearly and we started a fire but I don't know what it was. I wasn't much interested—just too scared."

PRETTY SHAKY

The Calgary flyer said the aircraft got home safely, but he was "pretty shaky" after a "darn good scare"

Gilfoy's next trip, to Berlin, wasn't so bad.

"I was on the wireless set this time and we didn't have much stuff thrown at us over Berlin. At least, I didn't think so, but perhaps it was because that first-flight jittery feeling had disappeared."

Gilfoy froze his hands during the flight and was grounded for six weeks which prompted his mates to dub him "non-operational Gil."

He's back on the job now and finds the life "pretty good, although I'd like to have a look at Canada."

GROUND CREWS MUST BE GOOD

Confidence in Men Who Service Bombers Important Factor in Fighting

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A ROYAL AIR FORCE STATION SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Feb. 11 (CP)—Ground crews are the forgotten men of the air force.

The men "behind the lines" in Britain's air war, they play a silent, unspectacular role in keeping the big bombers in the air. Their work never brings them into the headlines, but they are "tops" with the men who fly the machines and there is a kind of mutual admiration between them.

A bomber is as good as its ground crew. Flyers can't feel safe in the air unless they have confidence in the men who service their machines on the ground. That is why, in the opinion of officers of a Royal Canadian Air Force Wellington squadron stationed here, "it is imperative to have very good ground crews—and we have."

Ground crews with this squadron are from all parts of Canada. They left all walks of life to join the air force and come to Britain.

A group warming themselves around a stove in a bare dispersal hut represented each of the three Maritime Provinces, Ontario, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. Their only complaint was that bad weather was keeping their planes on the ground and there wasn't enough work to do.

Union Employees Called to Meet Dock President

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11 (CP)—Clarence Wallace, president of Burrard Drydock Company, Limited, said today he had called a meeting for tomorrow of all union employees in the two shipyards of the company and yard officials to discuss operation and production speed-up methods

Mr Wallace said the meeting was called as a result of charges by union officials of inefficiency in the shipyards, where 10,000-ton freighters are being built for Wartime Merchant Shipping Limited.

Rivetters in the yards last weekend voted against acceptance of a system of piecework rivetting, and early this week Mr. Wallace announced that all top-deck housing for the freighters would be welded instead of rivetted.

Pilot and Pupil Killed in Crash Of School Plane

SASKATOON, Feb 11 (AP) — Two airmen attached to No 4 Service Flying Training School of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan were killed and a third was slightly injured when their training plane crashed at Vanscoy, nineteen miles west of Saskatoon, early today.

P O P G. Hovey, Royal Canadian Air Force, Woodstock N.B., pilot of the plane, and a student from overseas personnel, died in the crash The third man, a student, escaped with slight injuries Names of the two student flyers were withheld by R C A F authorities pending notification of next of kin.

The aircraft was engaged in night flying instruction exercise when the crash occurred shortly after the craft, a single-engined machine, took off on a relief field, R.C.A.F. headquarters reported No other details were available

Fish Officials Know That Food Will Be Needed

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11 (CP)—Dr. D. B. Finn, deputy minister of fisheries, Ottawa, who is in Vancouver to discuss 1942 orders for the United Kingdom with fishermen and canners, said here today that "we know that food will be needed. Our job is to explore every possibility."

Dr. Finn said in an interview that "we must also explore methods to speed up production and eliminate difficulties which may arise."

He expressed himself pleased with the prospect of filling Britain's order for 1,600,000 cases of canned herring. The pack now totals more than 1,100,000 cases, and fishing will continue until the order has been filled or the herring start to spawn.

"Everything was done in a hurry last year," Dr. Finn said. "The major problem was to get food for Britain. Naturally there appeared certain problems and difficulties over the year, but in general the results were excellent."

TANKER AIDED BY CORVETTE

Orillia Gave Assistance to Tahchee and Helped Save Valuable Cargo

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A BRITISH PORT, Feb. 11 (CP). — The Canadian corvette Orillia helped a torpedoed British tanker Tahchee reach port, thereby saving a $1,000,000 oil cargo, it was revealed today.

The tanker was 600 miles from Britain when the torpedo struck and fire broke out. The crew abandoned ship, but the vessel remained afloat. The captain and three officers returned and managed to stop the blaze.

Three ratings from the Orillia, which was commanded by Lieut.-Cmdr. W. D. S. Briggs, accompanied twenty-seven members of the Tahchee's crew who also returned aboard.

The Orillia took the Tahchee to tow with makeshift gear until the tanker was able to raise steam. When the corvette ran out of fuel she was refilled from the bunkers of the tanker, which completed the limping, five-day trip under her own power.

McIntyre, secretary of the British Columbia Temperance League, and was introduced by Rev. Hugh McLeod, of First United Church.

Segregation of men and women to beer parlors, co-operation with the Federal authorities in securing scientific tests for intoxication in connection with car accidents, prohibition of liquor advertising, and an eight-hour day for the sale of liquor in vendors' stores, clubs and beer parlors were among the representations spoken to before the Cabinet.

Rev A. E. Cooke, Mrs. James Gray, Rev. Andrew Roddan, Rev W. L. McKay, Vancouver, and Rev. James Hyde, Victoria, were included in the delegation, which reported a courteous hearing with the pledge of consideration of its presentations.

Commission Will Continue Study Of Fish Problem

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11 (CP)—Dr. D B Finn, deputy minister of fisheries, Ottawa, said in an interview here today the Federal Department of Fisheries is asking in its estimates to Parliament for money with which to allow continuation of investigations being made into the Hell's Gate salmon blockade on the Fraser River

He said the International Salmon Fisheries Commission is continuing its study of the situation and what would be done to meet the problem would largely depend on its findings

Because of a narrowing of the Fraser River at what is known as Hell's Gate during high and low levels, salmon are unable to reach the spawning grounds in the upper reaches of the river.

He was chief engineer of the Raynor Construction Company.

VICTORY BOND BUYERS AIDED

Benefits of Installment Purchase Plan Stressed by Finance Chairman

By the provision permitting the purchase of Canada's Second Victory Loan bonds on the installment plan, the Government has removed a troublesome and very considerable obstacle to the way of small investors who would otherwise be unable to contribute their month-to month savings to the success of the campaign, Nigel A. Tomlin, chairman of the administration and finance committee, Vancouver Island division, emphasized yesterday.

"This provision, terms of which were announced through the Finance Minister's office earlier to the week, adds literally thousands to the ranks of prospective purchasers to this area—ranks which, if public enthusiasm is any criterion, are being swelled every day."

GOVERNMENT METHOD

While most purchasers pay for their bonds as soon as they are ready for delivery, many others find it more convenient to make payment to regular installments out of earnings, Mr. Tomlin pointed out. For these purchasers, he said, special arrangements are most helpful.

Answering a question which, he said, has been frequently asked during previous campaigns, Mr Tomlin said that if a purchaser requires money, he can sell his bond at any time through a bank or investment dealer or broker, and at the same time realize close to the face value.

CLARIFY CONDITIONS

There were instances, too, he said, where interested citizens were not clear as the security behind each bond, and required assurance that the interest will be paid regularly, and, further, that the face value of the bond will be repaid to the purchaser or holder on the date promised

"As most people understand," Mr. Tomlin explained, "security for the bond is all the wealth of Canada and its citizens It is a direct and binding obligation, as good as the credit of the Dominion of Canada"

Commenting on the mounting enthusiasm noted by volunteer committee workers, the chairman said it is obvious that recent reverses in the Far East are a definite factor to impressing the need for the utmost support of the campaign.

She has just reached an Allied port "where the French crew has signed up for Free France," the announcement said. She is to be converted into a troop carrier.

Toll of Tankers Keeps Mounting Off East Coast

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—The third United States Naval District announced today the sinking by an Axis submarine of the Standard Oil Company's tanker W L. Steed off the coast of New Jersey on February 2. The sinking was revealed when three survivors of a crew of thirty-eight were landed here today. Three lifeboats containing an ungiven number of men still are missing

Able-bodied Seaman Louis Harts, thirty-eight, Philadelphia, said the submarine hit the ship with one torpedo at 12:45 a.m. in the pitch-black darkness. Everyone left the ship in four lifeboats which were launched immediately, he said.

"The sub then fired seventeen shells into the sinking ship," he asserted. "It surfaced about 200 yards from the lifeboats and looked these over carefully. We saw eight or nine Germans on the conning tower."

Gay Nineties Concert Aids Russian Fund

The Gay Nineties variety entertainment given at the Shrine Hall on Tuesday evening under the direction of Miss Vanda Hudson in aid of the Red Cross fund for Medical Aid to Russia, was attended by a large and appreciative audience. The committee expects to be able to hand over $250 as result of the concert.

The entire programme was received with spontaneous applause and in the final number, a cleverly acted burlesque of "East Lynne," the spectators so heartily entered into the spirit of the occasion that they booed the villain, applauded the hero and wept with the oppressed. Harold Gelling played the part of Archibald Carlyle; Vanda Hudson, Lady Isabel, Bill Hutchison, Richard Hare and Little Willie; Doreen Radcliff, Barbara Hare; William White, Sir Francis Leveson; Norval Peterson, prompter, and Tom Obee, policeman.

MUCH COMEDY

The first part of the programme was devoted to songs, dances and monologues, Honor Benson opening the show with "La Belle Parisienne," in which she wore a bewitching "Gay Nineties" costume and the pupils of Wynne Shaw appeared in a Can-Can dance as the chorus. Then followed a novelty whistling number, "Listen to the Mocking Bird" by Norval Peterson and Gladys Thomas. Dolly Rutledge, in costume typical of the times, sang "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," and "Little Wooden Hut." Bert Lille was applauded in his monologue and Archie MacKinnon and his Y.M.C.A. troupe of tumblers provoked gales of laughter, the participants wearing brilliant red tights.

Paul Michelin, always a favorite with local audiences, played three piano numbers and responded with encores each time. Gladys Beasley "brought down the house" with her "Farmer Giles" number and in the second part appeared as an old-fashioned bride, singing "Waiting at the Church," her dance being one of the highlights of the programme.

OLD-TIME FIDDLER

Bert White, as an old "grandfather," contributed several numbers, and proved himself a most professional "fiddler." Gladys Thomas and Nellie Playne did a "Bicycle Built for Two" act and Tom Obee in coster costume sang "The Old Kent Road," this number also being well received.

Honor Benson and Fraser Lister introduced further comedy in their number "If You Were the Only Girl in the World." Miss Benson's straw "boater" and high-necked blouse, worn with the kind of skirt fashionable in the gay nineties, corresponded with her partner's quaint costume.

Hospitality Sought for Servicemen

There has been a noticeable falling off in the group entertainment for men of the services on Sundays, and the chairman of the hospitality committee makes a special appeal to all organizations and clubs in the city to help in this work by looking after a group of men at least one Sunday a month.

Last Sunday the A.Y.P.A. entertained thirty men from Parson's Bridge, and the regular group of fifty were entertained by the Y.W.C.A. On Tuesday the Alberta Association entertained a group of Alberta boys at a dance, and another group was entertained at a social evening by the United Church Young People's group.

On Sunday, February 15, fifty soldiers will be entertained by the Y.W.C.A., and twenty-five men from the Trades Training School will be guests of the Business and Professional Women's Club. A special Valentine dance is being given by the C.A.T.S. for fifty cadets from Gordon Head on Saturday, February 14.

The Daughters of St. George have issued an invitation to fifty men for a dance and card party on Wednesday, February 18.

CONVALESCENTS' NEEDS

In order to extend the work of placing convalescent men in private homes for a day or two after their discharge from hospital, additional homes offering such facilities are necessary, and the home hospitality committee feels that country homes would be particularly suited to this form of hospitality. Further information on this phase of work will be given at any time by Miss Ellen Hart, 1512 Laurel Lane, convener of the home hospitality committee.

Railways of Any Country Aid Progress

[illegible] future development of the country, thus eliminating unnecessary waste and delay, was emphasized by Mr. George Bullock in an address to the Zelotes Club following supper in the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club rooms last evening. Mr. Bullock took as the subject of his address, which was of great interest to the members, "The Development of Western Canada Through Transportation."

He spoke of the hardships of the early settlers who traveled by boat on large rivers and by canoe on the smaller streams. The invention of the steam engine and the locomotive for transportation, the "Iron Horse," permitted North Americans to open up their new land.

The speaker dealt with the important developments which followed the building of a railroad linking the shores of the Atlantic with those of the Pacific. He went on to point out the folly of the duplication of railway lines on Vancouver Island and in other parts of Canada and emphasized the importance of thoughtful planning.

Miss Patricia FitzPatrick, the president, thanked Mr Bullock for his enlightening address. Plans for future activities were discussed by the members and routine business conducted.

Give History Of Pioneer In Province

[illegible] strong of the Upper Columbia Valley" was the subject of a paper prepared by J. P. Forde for members of the Victoria Branch of the British Columbia Historical Society, who met at the home of the president, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, on Tuesday evening.

The sketch, which in the absence of Mr Forde was read by Miss Alma Russell, dealt with the opening up and settlement of the Upper Columbia River Valley from Golden to Canal Flats. Captain Armstrong, who came to the West on the engineering staff of the Canadian Pacific Railway as a member of the party which placed the line through the Selkirk Mountains at Rogers Pass, was a dominant figure in the development of the district. The son of Chief Justice Armstrong, C.M.G., of the Province of Quebec, he was born in Montreal in 1861 and came to Western Canada at the age of twenty. He was the grandson of Captain Logie Armstrong, the first steamer pilot between Quebec and Montreal.

Graphic descriptions of the hardships encountered by the C.P.R. exploration party and the hazards of blazing trails either to fetch supplies or mail over 300-mile distances were given in Captain Armstrong's own words.

Captain Armstrong later was an important figure in the survey and navigation projects of the Upper Columbia country, carried on by the Dominion Public Works Department, in whose service he remained until his death in 1923. During the Great War he was commissioned in the Royal Engineers and was in charge of operating steamers for men and supplies in the Mesopotamian campaign and on the River Nile.

Following the address, Miss Charlotte Armstrong, Captain Armstrong's daughter, and Mrs. Norman Taylor, his niece, both of Victoria, were introduced to the meeting by Mrs. Curtis Sampson.

"Old England to Her Daughters: An Address to the Females of Great Britain," an exhortation written in 1815 during the Napoleonic Wars, was read by Mrs. T. A. Rickard. It was the property of the late Lady Crease, "Pentrelew," Victoria, and was read as appropriate at this much later time of war and invasion.

An account of the annual meeting of the B.C. Historical Association, held in Vancouver, was given by Mrs Curtis Sampson, who represented the Victoria branch of the association. The annual celebration of Blanshard Day in March will be held at the home of Dr and Mrs. T. A. Rickard.

Weddings

METCALFE—BROWN

The marriage service was conducted by Captain the Rev J. V Mills, at the home of the bride's parents, 834 Kings Road, last evening, when Irene Henrietta, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs C. N. Brown became the bride of Signaler Donald Blair Metcalfe, Canadian Scottish Regiment, eldest son of Mr and Mrs. R. H Metcalfe, Calgary, Alta. Daffodils predominated in the decorations of the rooms, and during the ceremony the couple stood beneath an arch of greenery studded with daffodils. The wedding music was played by the bride's sister, Mrs. Catherine Hole, who also accompanied Mrs. J. Ritchie, who sang "O Promise Me" as the register was being signed. Mr. Brown gave his daughter away and she looked pretty in a floor-length frock of white chiffon crepe with long sleeves. The veil billowed from a halo of net and orange blossoms to form a train, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and carnations. The bridesmaids were her sister, Miss Dorothy Brown, in a long frock of pale pink chiffon crepe, and Miss Elaine Kramer, in yellow. They wore head-dresses and carried bouquets of fresh flowers to blend with their gowns, and veils of tulle down their backs. A.C. 1 Kenneth Knott, R.A.F., was best man. Mrs Brown was dressed in Queen's blue lace and assisting her parents in welcoming the guests was their daughter, Mrs. Catherine Hole, in a pale blue redingote ensemble of lace and satin. She and her mother wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations. A lace cloth covered the supper table, which was centred with the cake, flanked by vases of daffodils and white tapers. Following a honeymoon on the Mainland, Signaler and Mrs. Metcalfe will make their home in Vancouver for the immediate future. The bride went away in a navy blue costume with a smart shoulder cape of grey fur.

SAYS HEPBURN'S VIEW UNOFFICIAL

Dominion Government Does Not Subscribe to Assertion U.S. Fleet in Hiding

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP).—A reported statement of Premier Hepburn of Ontario that the United States navy was "in hiding" did not reflect the view of the Government of Canada, said Navy Minister Macdonald in the House of Commons today.

"At this very moment ships carrying the American flag are engaged along with Canadian ships of war in protecting convoys that are sailing from the American continent to the United Kingdom," said Mr. Macdonald. "They certainly are not in hiding."

Wherever the United States ships were they were a shield for Canada and for the United States as well as a powerful attacking force against the enemies.

Premier Hepburn's statement that the United States navy "is in hiding" was made last week in campaign speeches in Welland constituency, in support of Douglas Watt, independent candidate, who was defeated by Labor Minister Mitchell in Monday's Welland by-election.

What Today Means

AQUARIUS

If February 12 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 6:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 2:15 to 4:15 p.m. and from 6:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:15 to 6:15 a.m., from 6:15 to 6:15 p.m. and from 10:15 p.m. until midnight.

The memory of Lincoln is revered throughout the nation and his inspirational love for freedom will serve again to fire anew our determination to do our part to keep this country a democracy and an abiding place for liberty-loving people. Take an interest in what men of national prominence have to say on this date, for they may have messages that will influence greatly some of your future activities. Avoid controversial subjects in which surmises and guesswork are chiefly involved. February 12 may be a good day on which to realize that a display of optimistic enthusiasm on your part may help to bolster up someone who has permitted himself to become depressed. It will pay to spread as much sunshine as you can, for it will prove to be a most effective cure for bad cases of the blues. Married and engaged couples, and those entertaining matrimonial hopes, will do well to remember that flattery has no conscience; therefore it is a very foolish person who feels resentment because he is not continually receiving copious doses of it.

If you are a woman and February 12 is your birthday, be thoroughly efficient and no one's unjust criticisms can affect you. Silence often is far more dignified than are angry protestations and many times it will prove to be a great deal more effective. As a journalist, fiction writer, dramatist, actress, singer, interior decorator, designer demonstrator, business manager, or saleswoman, you ought to find that your work is not only congenial but profitable as well. Listen to the dictates of love and your marriage should be a success.

The child born on February 12 has, as a rule, an exceptionally good disposition, artistic ability and a remarkable amount of perseverance. An independent spirit will cause this youngster to depend on his own efforts to get results.

If you are a man and February 12 is your natal day, you ought to be capable of matching your wits with anyone, especially at playing politics. Exert the proper amount of effort and you should become successful in most of your undertakings. As a jurist, sculptor, artist, politician, actor, clergyman, business executive, financier, contact man, author, publisher, newspaperman, or educator, your results are apt to be most gratifying.

PREDICTS FINISH FIGHT

MOSCOW, Feb. 11 (AP).—The Government newspaper Isvestia predicted today a gigantic fight to the finish between the German and Russian Air Forces next Spring. The Nazi airmen, the editorial declared, will be attempting to make up for the failure of the German Winter offensive.

Torpedoed Tanker Is Brought to Port

LONDON, Feb. 11 (CP).—The Admiralty announced today the crew of the 6,000-ton British tanker Tahchee, with the aid of the Canadian corvette Orillia, brought their $1,000,000 cargo of oil safely into port after the ship was struck by a torpedo in the Atlantic. The crew abandoned ship after the torpedoing, but, when the Tahchee did not sink, reboarded her.

REDUCE GAS RATION

LONDON, Feb. 11 (CP).—A reduction of one-sixth in the basic gasoline ration for February, March and April was announced today. Private owners of automobiles of twenty horsepower or over will receive twenty gallons for the three months.

UNITED NEEDS HELP

Victoria United's entry in the Pacific Coast Football League needs help and in a big way. Only last week the Wests came to the rescue and supplied the United with four players so the club could meet the Radials in an inter-city match. It would be a good idea if all the local teams assisted the entry in the Coast circuit, for, after all, it would benefit them on the long run. Fans are not attending the matches in full force and something must be done to bring the crowds to the enclosure on Caledonia Avenue. In other words the salvation of football in this city boils down to one thing, the support the public gives the United in their games against Mainland clubs. The Victoria and District League is drawing fairly good attendances for their Sunday afternoon fixtures at Bullen Park in Esquimalt. So let's hope that local managers give the United all the support they possibly can, so that Doc Poynts' aggregation can make a good showing for the remainder of the schedule in the drive for the pennant.

ICE HOCKEY GOSSIP

"Every time MacKay gets the puck, the Nanaimo fans scream their heads off," stated Sid Thomas, The Colonist hockey scribe, on his return trip from Nanaimo after watching the Clippers trim the Bapcos, 5-2, after a hard-checking game on Tuesday night. Big Sid goes on to say that MacKay, who won the outstanding rookie honors in the National League last season as a member of the Chicago Black Hawks, hits the forwards hard as they come rushing in. "He hit Jack Kilpatrick, Victoria wingman and playing coach, so hard in the first period, that he wasn't himself for the rest of the match. MacKay takes the puck and goes to the opposing blue line and then passes and returns to his defence position. He's a great hockey player, and fans here on Friday night when the Clippers play Victoria, will see one of the smartest in the game today. Dave packs a wicked shot which Goalie Harney will back me up, for his few attempts the other evening really sizzled off the back boards after he let them go," continued the 240-pound scribe . . . The Bapcos did well against the Up-Islanders, despite the fact they quit work at the V.M.D. at 4:30 and jumped into the waiting Coach Lines' bus . . . Harney, the net minder, was a sick boy on the way to Nanaimo, and that accounts for some of those long shots which beat him, for he wasn't himself for the rest of the night . . . Les Bird, one of the second string forwards, also wasn't feeling very well after a meal of pork chops, of all things to toss into a player before a game . . . Nanaimo fans figure that Keith Langill is the best goalie in the Coast League . . . The Up-Island civic arena is a tribute to the foresight and sport mindness of the gentlemen responsible for its construction . . . Scribe Sid says that the Bapcos will take the decision here tomorrow night, but I will go out on the limb and take Nanaimo by two clear goals.

ODDS AND ENDS

Hockey fans are wondering what kind of a screwy league this Coast circuit really is. Victoria whips the daylights out of Vancouver, 13-2, and then the Norvans turn around and hand the Spitfires a 14-3 drubbing. The next night the New Westminster clan flash their early season form and take the Vancouver shipbuilders by four goals, and then the Clippers win over the Bapcos by a 5-2 margin. If you can figure it out, you are a better man than I am . . . The United States income tax collectors will take about $20,000 of that $45,000 bonus Dick Wakefield collected for signing with the Detroit ball club before Dick even starts to earn it . . . Whatever became of the New York Athletic Commission rule that a boxing champion couldn't fight in a heavier division without giving up his title. Sammy Angott, Gus Lesnevich and Tony Zale hardly got the New York crowns settled on their heads before signing for overweight bouts . . . Bryan Hextall has widened the gap between Victoria's Lynn Patrick in the race for the scoring honors in big-time hockey by garnering another assist the other night against the Chicago Black Hawks. The former Vancouver star is now two points in front of Lynn, but we all have hopes that the husky Victorian will finish on top when the schedule finishes.

Victoria Bapcos Out to Turn Back Nanaimo Clippers

Local Puckchasers, Gunning for Play-Off Bye, Will Be After Victory in Tomorrow's Pacific Coast Hockey Fixture at Willows—Up-Islanders Strong—Face-Off Set for 9 o'Clock

Nanaimo Clippers and Victoria Bapcos, Coast hockey sextettes, will not be pulling any punches when they meet tomorrow evening at the Willows. Bracketed in second berth in the standings, two points behind the idle Norvans, the Clippers and Bapcos will be "shooting the works" for victory and a chance to move into first place along with the Mainlanders.

For the locals it will mark the start of their three-game wind-up of their 1941-42 fixture list. The second contest will see the Bapcos visiting the Spitfires at New Westminster Saturday evening and then returning Up-Island Monday to battle the Clippers in the final game of the Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey League schedule.

The Victoria puckmen have their eyes on top berth in the league standings and a bye in the play-offs. They can accomplish this by taking two of their three contests, and that's what they have visions of doing. But don't think for one minute that the Bapcos are underestimating their opponents. Even Laurel Harney, Victoria net custodian, who says little, admitted Tuesday evening during the homeward journey from Nanaimo, that the task before the locals is a tough one but, he confided, "I think the boys can do it."

Nanaimo Clippers, with two matches remaining, can pass the idle Norvans and move into the coveted top spot with a pair of victories over the Victoria ice men. The Up-Islanders are hitting top form at present, and with Dave MacKay, former Chicago Black Hawks' player to assist their cause, will be a tough club to upset tomorrow at the Willows.

NO ALIBIS

"Dutch" Evers, who has been handling the local players during the last two matches, had no alibis to offer for the 5-2 setback the Bapcos suffered at Nanaimo Tuesday evening. Instead, Mr. Evers paid a tribute to the Clippers for their smart performance. "However, with the boys at home I think it will be a different story tomorrow," he concluded.

Interest in the return fixture between the two Island sextettes is at a fever pitch and present indications point to one of the season's largest crowds. Nanaimo supporters—and what supporters they are—will be on hand to give their boys the spectator "lift" and are certainly looking forward to another victory.

Tomorrow's contest has been set back thirty minutes and will get under way at 9 o'clock, instead of the usual time of 8:30 o'clock.

ICE PLAY-OFF DATES GIVEN

Provincial President Announces Days for British Columbia Series

TRAIL, Feb. 11 (CP).—A. W. "Gus" McDonald, president of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association, announced yesterday dates for British Columbia intermediate and junior play-downs and also tentative plans for the minor team series.

The dates are as follows.

Intermediate Play-Downs — Kimberley Intermediates play at Trail, February 23 and 24, and Bralorne plays at Vernon the same nights. Both series will be decided on total goals and the winners will play a best-of-three-game series at Vernon, February 26 and 28, and if necessary March 2.

The provincial finals will be held at the Coast, March 5, 7 and 9, and the Western intermediate finals will open on the Coast March 11, when Alberta and British Columbia winners meet.

Juniors — Trail and Nelson have the only junior entries. They will play off on dates to be announced later. Number of games is not yet decided. The winners from Alberta will play in Trail or Nelson to decide the Western junior "B" winners, but British Columbia will not enter a team in the Memorial Cup play-downs.

The winners of the Rossland-Trail midget series, and the Trail juveniles, will open a best-of-three-game series in Nelson commencing February 17. Dates for the remaining games have yet to be set. Winner of the series will play Kimberley midgets and juveniles.

The Western end of the midget and juvenile play-offs have not been settled.

Vernon and Armstrong have entered midget and juvenile entries; Princeton has a juvenile entry, and New Westminster has a midget entry.

Mr. McDonald is waiting word from L. W. Woods, of Armstrong, a member of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association executive, on details of the Okanagan juvenile and midget play-downs.

MAPLE LEAF TRIUMPH

RED DEER, Alta., Feb. 11 (CP).—Lethbridge Maple Leafs tonight defeated Red Deer Buffaloes 5-4 when Don Culley of the Leafs punched in an overtime goal to win the A.B.C. Senior Hockey League game here.

Buffaloes, down throughout most of the game, came to life in the last period to score three goals and send the game into overtime, 4-4, before Culley scored from a mad scramble in front of the Buffaloes' net.

Culley with two goals, Alex Pringle and Mal Lunde, one each, were the scorers for the winners. Outstanding for Red Deer was Frank Warshawski who scored once and had three assists. Other Buffalo scorers were Bob Preulz, with two, and Sid Stark.

K.V.'s TO TRAVEL

Coach Harold Turner's K.V.'s intermediate "A" hoopsters will travel to Sooke, Saturday, to play an exhibition game with Sooke Imperials. In an earlier fixture this season K.V.'s won over the Sooke boys and will be out to repeat.

A Valentine dance will be held after the game.

COMMERCIAL HOCKEY

Bill O'Connor, secretary of the Commercial Ice Hockey League, announced yesterday that there would be no games this coming Friday and Saturday. A meeting of the executive will be held next Monday night at President Ernie Stock's residence, Park Mansions, Suite 7, at 8 o'clock. All teams are asked to have delegates present.

SPORT SHORTS FROM BRITAIN

Old Country Playing Fields Being Taken Over by The Army

LONDON, Feb. 11 (CP).—Sport shorts from Britain:

Nearly 80 per cent of Britain's sports grounds have been taken over by farmers and allotment holders since the war began. Sheep and cattle graze on golf links, fairways have been ploughed up and cricket pitches are being dug up for family vegetable gardens. Majority of the 1,500 prewar golf courses are being used for agricultural production, while fewer than 1,000 of the country's 4,000 cricket clubs are active. In London, where 200 amateur football matches were played every Saturday in peacetime, there rarely are more than twenty games because of lack of grounds.

* * *

Pte. Gordon Roll, prisoner of war in Poland, had to wait nearly seven weeks before learning he had lost his £1,000 (about $4,500) bet on the Cambridgeshire. Roll, a former racehorse owner, placed his bet by mail from his prison camp, instructing a London firm to wager the money on the favorite. An outsider won the race, run October 8, and Roll didn't hear of the result until November 24.

* * *

Joe Davis, veteran billiards and snooker champion, scored a snooker break of 108 in a game at Bristol. It was the 120th century break of his career.

* * *

The Government doesn't believe its war powers extend to prohibiting betting transactions at horse races. Asked by Sir Waldron Smithers if he would issue an order prohibiting all betting transactions as inconsistent with the Prime Minister's appeal for total war effort, Home Secretary Herbert Morrison replied that "whatever arguments there may be for amendment of the laws relating to betting, I do not think that war powers conferred on the Government could properly be used to effect the changes desired by the honorable member."

JUNIOR HOCKEY GAMES

Games scheduled in the Junior Ice Hockey League for Sunday morning are as follow: Greens vs. Oranges, 7 to 7.30; Whites vs. Reds, 7.30 to 8.00; Blues vs. Greens, 8.00 to 8.30; Blacks vs. Oranges, 8.30 to 9.00.

DUROIDS TO PRACTISE

A workout of the Duroid Raiders Hockey Club will be held tonight at the Willows Arena at 11.15. All players are asked to attend.

SO THAT'S IT

There are no snakes or toads on the Isle of Man in the Irish Sea.

Chariot Race Is Hilarious Event

Weirdly garbed charioteers, riding in cleated barrels drawn by teams of two skaters, are shown in action above during a race which kept employees of the Hudson's Bay Company in fits of laughter as they attended the Beaver Club's ice carnival, held Tuesday evening in the Willows Arena. The company, which was host to its local staff and their friends, provided a programme of thirteen events, after which Mrs. A. J. Watson, wife of the store's manager, presented prizes to the winners. The prize-giving ceremony was followed by a free skating session.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 11 (AP). — The departure of Johnny Elder, of Brooklyn, N.Y., to report for army induction cut the field in Cleveland's six-day bicycle race tonight to seven teams.

More than twenty mermaids and mermen from the Victoria Y.M.C.A. Swimming Club will invade Vancouver, Saturday, to participate in an invitational meet being staged in the Crystal Garden Pool.

The gala is being held under the auspices of the Vancouver Swimming Club, and will see the local natators pitted against Mainland stars.

Locals have been undergoing heavy training sessions under the watchful eyes of Coach McKinnon and are all in the best of condition. Bob Johnstone will try to hold his junior half-mile championship. It will be the last time he will officially compete in junior events.

PAUL WANER HAS CHANCE

Veteran Ball Player Needs Only Forty-Four Hits to Gain Fame

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP). — Paul Waner, the little guy known as "Big Poison," is nearing the end of baseball's trail, but before he is through he may achieve one of the rarest of all hitting honors.

He needs only fourty-four hits this year to bring his life-time total to 3,000 and enter a select society which has but six other members—Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Hans Wagner, Eddie Collins, Napoleon Lajoie and Cap Anson.

Waner, who will be thirty-nine years old April 16, will be wearing the livery of Boston Braves this Spring, although fifteen of his previous sixteen seasons in the National League were spent with Pittsburgh Pirates.

Paul twice won the National League batting championship, batted over .300 for a dozen years and collected more than 200 hits in each of eight different seasons, ultimately totaling 2,956.

It should be easy for him to get those fourty-four hits somewhere along the way, and when he does he will have accomplished something Rogers Hornsby, Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and many other famous hitters failed to do.

Cobb made 4,191 hits, Speaker, 3,515, Wagner, 3,430; Collins, 3,313; Lajoie, 3,243, and Anson, 3,081. Hornsby ended his string at 2,930.

PENALIZED FOR RIFLE PRACTICE

Youth Fined for Using Unregistered Weapon to Pepper Treetops From Bedroom Window

In Provincial Police Court yesterday, Magistrate H. C. Hall fined a youth charged with having an unregistered weapon in his possession $5 and $2.50 costs, or two days in default. Constable Peter Kelsberg told the court that on February 4 last he observed accused shooting at treetops with a 22-calibre rifle from a window of his home on Thetis Lake Road, and found on investigation that the rifle was not registered, contrary to the Defence of Canada Regulations.

Accused said the weapon belonged to a soldier, now in Eastern Canada, who had left it in his charge. The court adjourned the case for three weeks to enable accused to communicate with the owner of the rifle, and also adjourned decision upon the question of its confiscation, requested by the Crown.

A woman driver paid $15 and $2.50 costs for exceeding the highway speed limit, after calling as a witness a mechanic who testified that her car's speedometer was inaccurate, registering twenty miles per hour when driving speed was in fact thirty miles per hour. "You are responsible for the condition of the car, and I must find you guilty," Magistrate Hall said in imposing the fine.

A charge of driving to the common danger against another motorist was dismissed after three witnesses swore that she had not cut out of a line of traffic to pass cars at or approaching curves on the Island Highway. In dismissing the case, Magistrate Hall said he was giving accused the benefit of a reasonable doubt that she was guilty of the charge.

Victoria Ruggers Selected for Cup Game on Mainland

Crimson Tide Must Win Saturday's McKechnie Cup Fixture With Vancouver "Reps" to Stay in Running—Strong, Well-Balanced Squad Named—Grogan at Fullback

Victoria "Rep" ruggers, holders of the McKechnie Cup, emblematic of provincial Rugby supremacy for more than half a century, will have to uncork their "do or die" spirit, Saturday at Brockton Point, when they oppose Vancouver in their most important game of the 1941-42 inter-city series.

Mainlanders, with victories over Varsity Thunderbirds and the Crimson Tide, will take possession of the silverware and end the current race if they win Saturday's game with Victoria. Locals, however, will place themselves right back in the running if they upset the Terminal City fifteen and gain revenge for their earlier defeat at Macdonald Park here.

No one realizes the importance of the task facing the Victoria team more than Manager R. H. "Bob" McInnes. The veteran mentor, who has guided many local fifteens to victory, said last night that he felt confident his proteges could come through. Beaten 5-3 here on Boxing Day, chiefly because of a weak backfield, Victoria climbed back on the winning van against the Varsity Thunderbirds.

At the present time the locals are in second berth, two points behind the Vancouver squad, while the students from the University of British Columbia bring up the rear. The McKechnie Cup schedule has reached the halfway mark, and Saturday's game between the Crimson Tide and the Mainlanders is the start of the final half.

McInnes' chief problem all season has been his backfield. It was changed considerably for the second match here and will again be altered for the fixture on the Mainland. At the present time it looks as if three men will start in Saturday's battle, all newcomers to the 1941-42 edition of the Crimson Tide. Luckily, however, for the local mentor, the players are all experienced and have already carved their names in McKechnie Cup play.

GROGAN AT FULLBACK

Replacing Rocha Angus, the Brentwood College star, at fullback, will be Jack Grogan, kicking sensation of Victoria fifteens a few seasons ago. Grogan is no stranger to McKechnie Cup play, and more than once his performances both at home and away have made the headlines.

Ernie Teagle, well known to English Rugby circles as a member of the Varsity "wonder" team, will play in the Victoria backfield, being another addition to the club for the coming match. Cyril Doheny, the "Fighting Irishman" and a grand performer in any spot on the team, will hold down a berth on the three-quarter line. Doheny is better known to Vancouver followers as a forward, but is no stranger to the backfield play.

Fred Smith and Ken Featherstone, soldier stars, will be on the wings. Speedy, good ball carriers and hard men to stop, Victoria followers expect big things from these two players.

"Buddy" Lott, youngest member of the squad, will again hold down the halfback position. It will be his third McKechnie Cup game this season and he is certainly an improved player.

Only position not final last night was that of five-eighths, where two players are being considered. But even then, McInnes, cagey pilot, would not divulge the names of the men who are being drilled for the post.

Only one change will be made in the pack, where Wally Williams, Victoria College star and outstanding local athlete, will replace Joe Roberts. Other members of the the scrum are Bob Mair, Doug Bray (hook), Sus Anderson, Frank Doheny, Dan Doswell and Ned Sparks.

HEXTALL TWO POINTS AHEAD

Ranger Forward Is Leading Teammate Lynn Patrick In Scoring Race

(By The Canadian Press)

Bryan Hextall, Rangers, added a point to his total in the National Hockey League scoring race Tuesday night to remain alone in the top spot with forty-two points, but Boston's little Bobby Bauer left notice with the rest of the leaders that he would have been a real contender for honors, as he pulled out four points in his farewell appearance against Canadiens before leaving to enter the Royal Canadian Air Force to boost his count to thirty-five and give him sole possession of fifth place in the scoring.

The leaders:	G.	A.	P.
Hextall, Rangers	19	23	42
Patrick, Rangers	23	17	40
Watson, Rangers	12	27	39
Thoms, Chicago	13	24	37
Bauer, Boston	13	22	35
Drillon, Toronto	19	15	34
Schmidt, Boston	14	20	34

THREE TIED IN GOLF TOURNEY

Big League Ball Players Star Annual Event on Miami Course

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 11 (AP). — Three former big leaguers carded par 72's today to take the lead as thirty baseball players ran the gamut—from eagles to 9's—in the first round of their championship golf tournament.

Heinie Manush, one-time American League batting champion; Wes Ferrell, who saw service with several major clubs, and Ray Lenahan, a pitcher with Pittsburgh for part of the 1918 season, wound up in a tie.

A typical diamond argument arose during the play-off for a medal prize —won by Lenahan with a birdie four on the first extra hole—when Ferrell suddenly raised the question of Lenahan's eligibility, but the argument ended just where it started.

Other players pointed out that Lenahan had every right to participate because of his service not only with Pittsburgh, but for three years with Springfield, of the Eastern League.

A.R.P. Activities

This evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of Mount Douglas High School, Cedar Hill Road, Captain Levien, chief A.R.P. officer for Saanich, with A. Cullen, chief warden, and Dr. J. L. Gayton, will be present. All A.R.P. wardens are asked to be present.

On Friday at 8 p.m. in the Cloverdale School, Quadra Street, Corporal Taylor, of the Provincial Police, will be in attendance with motion pictures to be shown along with a technical lecture. All wardens and others interested are asked to attend.

VOTERS' LISTS TO BE REVISED

Plebiscite May Be Taken Late in March or Early In April

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP).—Dominion election authorities estimated tonight that revision of the voters' lists to bring them up to date for the forthcoming manpower plebiscite would be completed in from three to five weeks after the resolution authorizing taking of the plebiscite is approved by the House of Commons.

State Secretary McLarty today gave notice he will introduce in the Commons the authorizing plebiscite resolution.

So far no date for the plebiscite, by which the Government will seek release from its past pledges against conscription, has been set, though late in March or early in April has been suggested unofficially.

MAY BE SENT TO OTTAWA

It was learned some consideration was being given to having all ballot papers completed by voters in Canada sent to Ottawa for counting instead of individual returns being made by returning officers scattered throughout the country.

In the event this plan is adopted, only two totals—the number voting "yes" and those voting "no"—would be made known and the elaborate counting facilities of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics would be available to give a speedy and exact return.

It was understood that Conservative members of Parliament were prepared to oppose adoption of this method of handling the vote.

OVERSEAS VOTE

The count for members of the armed forces overseas might be made in the United Kingdom and other areas where they now serve, and be cabled to Jules Castonguay, the chief electoral officer, as was done in the 1940 Dominion election.

This method would facilitate early announcement of the result, it was said.

The question to be submitted to the voters will read:

"Are you in favor of releasing the Government from any obligation arising out of any past commitments restricting the methods of raising men for military service?"

HENRY BROWNING HAS DIED IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, Feb. 11 (CP). — Henry Browning, seventy-four, one-time secretary of the British Columbia Chamber of Mines and former purchasing agent and assistant secretary of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited at Victoria, died here last night. Mr Browning was also at one time purchasing agent and general assistant manager of the British Columbia Copper Company at Greenwod, B.C.

More recently Mr. Browning had been secretary of the Wells Mining Corporation.

LONDON, Feb. 12 (Thursday) (AP). —The Royal Air Force attacked objectives in German-held territory last night for the second successive night, it was announced today.

No Canadians in Singapore Battle

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP).—No Canadian troops are serving in Singapore, Defence Minister Ralston told a questioner in the House of Commons today. He said there might be some Canadians serving in the British forces there but there were no Canadian forces as such.

SCORES WASTE OF HOUSE TIME

W. T. Straith Chides C.C.F. Members — Victoria Liberals Elect Officers

"It is a criminal waste of time the way the Opposition leader and his supporters are conducting themselves in the House these days. Their campaign for conversation is keeping the Legislature in session unnecessarily and keeping us from getting back to our constituencies where we could be of use in the war effort," declared William T. Straith, K.C., M.P.P., in addressing the annual meeting of the Victoria Liberal Asociation last night in Liberal headquarters.

Mr. Straith said that this was no time for sport in the House. "Singapore is practically gone, and before we know it, we will have to look out over here. We have no right at the present time to play politics when our very existence is in danger," the speaker stated.

MRS. NANCY HODGES, M.P.P.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.P.P., told her hearers she was enjoying her first session in the House and was learning a whole lot. She said the Coalition Government was working out very satisfactorily and considerable had been accomplished. "When I have a conviction for a thing, I intend to stay with and fight for it. I can't please everyone—however, I don't care, as long as I support what I believe to be right," she asserted.

LOYAL WORKERS

Carew Martin, who was retiring as president after holding office since 1938, spoke of the fine, loyal workers in the party.

A. H. Cox, secretary, reported that there were now 330 members of the Victoria Liberal Asociation. E. E. Heath, the treasurer, reported the finances of the organization were in a healthy state.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Hon. John Hart, Hon. Ian Mackenzie and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., were chosen by acclamation as honorary presidents for the coming year. The following officers were all elected by acclamation: President, Herbert W. Davey; vice-president, C. M. Parrott; secretary, A. H. Cox, and treasurer, E. E. Heath.

A vote of thanks to President Carew Martin and retiring officers was passed.

SAD HOMECOMING

CRAMLINGTON, England (CP).—Gunner Robert Armstrong, of this Northumberland town, returned home on leave to find his two children, Robert, six, and Elizabeth, four, were drowned at the town sewage works.

"STAND UP AND FIGHT" AT YORK

Florence Rice Plays Boston Miss Who Inherits Stage Coach Line —Robert Taylor in Male Lead

The frosty breath of Wallace Beery, Robert Taylor, Florence Rice and Helen Broderick, appearing like white puffs of smoke before the camera lens, held up the first day of location work on a motion picture until a log cabin could be heated sufficiently to make the vapor unnoticeable.

A five-inch fall of snow at Butte Meadows on the west side of Northern California's Sierras, one of the earliest on record, had entirely changed location plans for "Stand Up and Fight," which will open today at the York Theatre.

In the story Miss Rice plays the role of an independent young Boston miss who inherits a stage coach line and encourages her hard-boiled manager, Wallace Beery, to shanghai Robert Taylor into going to work as a driver.

"SAPS AT SEA" ON RIO SCREEN

Hal Roach's Laugh-Filled Comedy Stars Laurel and Hardy in Their Latest Laughfest

"Saps at Sea," Hal Roach's laugh-filled comedy starring Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, opens today at the Rio Theatre.

The picture opens with daffy action in a horn-manufacturing plant where the two are employed to tune up D flat horns exclusively. The work, however, gets on the nerves of Mr. Hardy and a sea voyage is prescribed by his medico. The boys hire a boat that isn't seaworthy, planning to stay in port and benefit from the sea breezes without battling with the deep.

Peace, however, remains a far-off dream, for the comics become involved with a gangster and then with the police.

What ensues provides the film with a long list of screamingly funny situations in which everything goes wrong for the vacationists.

ATLAS THEATRE Dashiell Hammeth, author of "The Maltese Falcon," which will close tonight at the Atlas Theatre, stands unquestionably as the master writer of detective story fiction in America and he has a sound basis for his talents. Before and after the first Great War he was an operative, and a very good one, for the Pinkerton Detective Agency.

DOMINION THEATRE "Glamour Boy," starring Jackie Cooper and Susanna Foster, will end tonight at the Dominion Theatre. Jackie, who sprang to fame a decade ago as "Skippy," is presented in "Glamour Boy" as a has-been child star, turned soda jerker, who gets his comeback chance when Walter Abel, as a movie producer, hires him to coach a new boy to the Skippy role.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Atlas—Humphrey Bogart and Mary Astor in "The Maltese Falcon."

Cadet—"The Shepherd of the Hills," with John Wayne and Betty Field.

Capitol — "Sergeant York," starring Gary Cooper.

Dominion—Jackie Cooper and Susanna Foster in "Glamour Boy."

Oak Bay—Ginger Rogers, in "Tom, Dick and Harry."

Plaza—"Lydia," with Merle Oberon and Alan Marshal.

Rio—Laurel and Hardy in "Saps at Sea."

York—Robert Taylor and Wallace Beery in "Stand Up and Fight."

PLAZA THEATRE Glamorous Merle Oberon, who is starred as an audacious Boston debutante, has four leading men in the new Alexander Korda romantic drama, "Lydia," which is now showing at the Plaza Theatre. Merle's quartette of handsome heroes includes Joseph Cotten, George Reeves, Hans Yaray and Alan Marshal.

JOHN WAYNE STARS IN SAGA OF THE OZARKS

Starring three of Hollywood's foremost players and directed by one of Hollywood's most expert megaphone wielders, "The Shepherd of the Hills," Paramount's film version in Technicolor of the famous novel by Harold Bell Wright, opens today at the Cadet Theatre.

For years millions of readers of the Harold Bell Wright saga of the Ozarks have been thrilled by the exciting story and moved by the passionate romance.

CAPITOL SCREENS "SERGEANT YORK"

Gary Cooper Plays Title Role in Season's Most Eagerly Awaited Film Event

The most eagerly awaited screen event of the season, "Sergeant York," will open today at the Capitol Theatre.

Gary Cooper is starred in the title role of America's greatest World War hero. It was only recently, twenty-two years after his heroic exploit of capturing 132 Germans single handed, that Jesse Lasky was able to get York's permission to film the story of his life.

Gary Cooper, whose recent work has made him an outstanding favorite of filmgoers, does the finest job of his career as York, and Joan Leslie has done a wonderfully natural portrayal of Gracie Williams, York's sweetheart.

GINGER ROGERS STARS IN ROMANTIC COMEDY

The romantic problems of a pretty working girl with too many beaux motivate the sparkling and hilarious theme of Ginger Rogers' film vehicle, "Tom, Dick and Harry," which will open today at the Oak Bay Theatre.

George Murphy, Alan Marshal and Burgess Meredith enact the title roles in this light, whimsical romantic comedy.

The lovely star is cast as a romantically-inclined telephone girl who impulsively allows herself to become betrothed to three young fellows, all of varying financial and social position.

Riotous complications result which, enhanced by bristling dialogue and several unique fantasy sequences, make "Tom, Dick and Harry" one of the most delightful offerings brought to the screen in many years.

ADVENTURE DRAMA AT PLAZA THEATRE MONDAY

"Sundown," the filmization of Barre Lyndon's story of the same name, will be seen by local theatre goers when it comes to the Plaza next Monday. The story has been read by millions of people as it ran in serial form in The Saturday Evening Post.

It unfolds a drama packed with adventure, romance and the color and mystery of Africa. Lyndon spent more than a year living in the wilds of Kenya getting background material for "Sundown" before starting to write down one of the most exciting modern adventure stories in years.

WILL COMBINE NEW AND OLD FAVORITES

Programme numbers of exceptional interest have been arranged by Miss Ruth Draper for her welcome reappearance at the Royal Victoria Theatre here next Thursday at 8:30 p.m.

Highly entertaining new numbers are combined with a few old favorites which her admirers insist she include on each programme. The predominant note of the entire evening is one of laughter and gaiety. But exciting interludes are not lacking in the programme and Victoria theatre lovers are assured of a wide range of entertainment from this versatile star.

Miss Draper comes to Victoria direct from record-breaking triumphs in New York city, where she played a lengthy engagement on her return from a good will tour of South America arranged by the United States Government.

A great audience will be on hand to greet Miss Draper next Thursday night.

CAPACITY CROWD IS EXPECTED AT ROYAL

Unusual interest evidences that an over-capacity house will be on hand to greet England's great conductor, Sir Thomas Beecham, and the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, when the noted aggregation visits the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday of this week. The attention of patrons is particularly drawn to the date, as routing difficulties have necessitated advancing the original date one day, so that the performance is now on Friday night.

The programme will open promptly at 8:30 and ticketholders are particularly urged to arrive promptly as Sir Thomas is particularly insistent on this point. It will be impossible to allow patrons to enter the hall during the playing of any number.

A limited number of choice seats are still available. Season subscribers who have tickets on hand at the box office and any reservation holders who have not yet called for are urged to do so at their earliest opportunity.

NEW RENTAL REGULATIONS

Procedure Governing Possession of Houses by Purchasers Are Outlined

Various elements of rental control, particularly the procedure under which new purchasers could be given possession of houses, are outlined in a statement issued yesterday by Judge H. H. Shandley. The statement follows

"A member of the staff of the Enforcement Board will open an office in Victoria and it will be his duty to deal with all forms in connection with rentals and also to see that these forms are properly filled out. They will then be approved by him and deposited in the County Court Registry and a date fixed to hear the application. He will also deal with complaints that the law has been broken and his staff will make an investigation and if he sees fit he will prosecute the party breaking the law.

"Where a landlord sells his property and inserts in the agreement or deed a covenant undertaking to give the buyer vacant possession the landlord (not the buyer) shall give notice to the tenant that he has sold the property and undertaken to give vacant possession and requires the tenant to vacate. If the tenant does not vacate, the landlord (not the buyer) is at liberty to make application to the court for an order for possession and at that time produce his agreement or deed, as the case may be, and secure an order that the tenant vacate.

APPLY FOR ORDER

"Where the owner of property gives his tenant notice to vacate and states that he requires the housing accommodation for himself or family, and the tenant does not vacate, the owner is at liberty to apply for an order for possession, and if the judge is satisfied that the owner does require the property for his own use an order will be made for possession.

"As to the question of compensation to the tenant in the event of the owner not going into possession. Heretofore a number of owners after getting an order for possession never went into possession. Hereafter there will be inserted in the order a clause to the effect that in the event of the owner not going into possession after the tenant vacates, the tenant shall be at liberty to make application to the court for an order compensating him for the cost of moving. Then the enforcement officer in Victoria will be notified and he will make inquiries and launch proceedings against the owner.

"Where the owner has declined to give the purchaser an undertaking for vacant possession and where the purchaser becomes the registered owner of the property, and then notifies the tenant that he requires accommodation for his own use. This matter is under consideration and a decision will be arrived at in a very short time as to the length of time (if any) the judge will allow the tenant to remain in possession

DEATH OF LANDLORD

"If a landlord rents a furnished house and dies during the tenancy the executor is at liberty to demand the furniture upon giving the proper notice. After the furniture has been removed the executor must apply to the rentals committee to fix the rental value of the house as unfurnished

"Where a landlord has given the proper notice to the tenant to vacate and the tenant does not vacate but forces the landlord into court to prove that he is entitled to possession, and he does get an order for possession, the tenant will be obliged to pay the costs of the application."

Has High Praise For Activity of Salvage Workers

The main collection depot of the Salvage Corps of British Columbia is the best he has yet seen, H. S. Athey, of Ottawa, who represents the salvage division of the Department of National War Services, said yesterday after inspecting the Cloverdale Avenue car barn with A. H. Pease, P. R. Blaikie, Commander J. S. Hincks and other officers of the Salvage Corps.

Mr. Athey was accompanied by R. R. Wilkinson, Vancouver, who has been appointed salvage adviser for British Columbia, and whose services will be at the disposal of workers in need of information on the kinds of materials most urgently required and data on prices and markets available for them.

Before visiting the depot, Mr. Athey and Mr. Wilkinson discussed the work of the Salvage Corps with Mr. Pease and Mr Blaikie at the Government Street office, where its methods of collecting saleable goods were described to them. Mr. Athey is making his first visit to British Columbia.

ESTIMATES TO BE DISCUSSED

City Council to Commence Third Session at 3 o'Clock This Afternoon

Further attempts to reduce estimates a sufficient amount to slash one mill from the tax rate will be made by the City Council at a six-hour session to commence at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The only result of lengthy meetings on Monday and Wednesday was a net reduction of $2,500 in the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau vote.

In discussing estimates with the council yesterday D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, revealed that $33,800 in increased revenue from the lands department last year contributed towards a net reduction of $39,700 in debt charges of the current year.

He pointed out that school board estimates showed an increase of $50,000 above those of 1941, and mentioned that provision had been made for cost-of-living bonuses to those in receipt of $125 and less per month. He said he based the budget on an estimated tax collection of 80 per cent

EXPLAINS SURPLUS

He explained that a surplus of $282,556.26 from 1941 operations included $3,977.79 left over by the school board and $100,000 worth of Victory Bonds purchased by the City Council He informed the council that a tax rate of thirty-seven mills would mean that $102,137 must be slashed from the estimates to balance the budget.

In answer to questions, Mr Macdonald stated the council could return school board estimates if it was felt they were too high, and they had until March 3 to agree upon arbitration. Such a course of action could be demanded not later than March 15, and estimates as adjusted in that manner would be binding upon the council. He added that the council had until February 24 to approve or throw out school board extraordinary estimates.

Most Leaders in New York Mart On Down Grade

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP). — Resistance lines stiffened in some departments of the stock market today, but the majority of leaders yielded further ground.

The fairly sharp retreats of Monday and Tuesday apparently put the list in shape for a calmer appraisal of implications of British loss of Singapore, which was even more definitely foreshadowed by today's bulletins.

Selective buying, a good part of it probably representing short covering, was chiefly beneficial to oils, motors, rubbers and coppers. Steels could make no progress and many of the higher priced industrials dipped nearer to the December lows.

Tomorrow's recess for Lincoln's birthday observance persuaded those with buying intentions to operate conservatively.

The Associated Press sixty-stock composite recorded a net decline of .1 of a point at 36.7. Transactions fell to 415,440 shares, compared with yesterday's 630,960.

Stocks finishing with small gains included Standard Oil of New Jersey, Texas Co., General Motors, Goodrich and International Harvester. Du Pont slid off to a new 1941-42 low. Others in the loss group included Westinghouse, Bethlehem Steel, Case, Douglas, Philip Morris, Allied Chemical and American Telephone.

CONSERVATIVES WILL CAUCUS

Leadership to Be Discussed —Another Seat May Be Opened for Meighen

OTTAWA, Feb. 11 (CP).—Conservative members of Parliament will caucus tomorrow and, it was said tonight, the chief discussion will likely be on the leadership situation, following the defeat of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen in the York South by-election Monday. Mr. Meighen was chosen permanent party leader last November.

A canvass of Conservative members indicated some would favor passing a resolution at tomorrow's caucus urging Mr. Meighen to continue as party leader. It was known several members were prepared to resign from the House of Commons to open another constituency for him.

Major Alan Cockeram resigned as member for York South to allow Mr. Meighen's recent candidature.

NO DECISION EXPECTED

Another view here was that the caucus would discuss the situation, but take no definite decision until it received word from Mr. Meighen whether he would be willing to contest another constituency. Some held he should be allowed ample time to make a decision.

Hon. R. B. Hanson, acting Conservative leader, said his desire to be relieved of the leadership was well known, but that he would continue for this session if the caucus desired it. Other members took it as a matter of course that Mr. Hanson would carry on.

Reports have it that Denton Massey, now with the air force, is ready to resign his Toronto-Greenwood seat to make way for Mr. Meighen, and similar offers have been made by [illegible] Simcoe; Joseph H. Harris, of Toronto-Danforth, and Russel Boucher, of Carleton.

WILL PUBLICIZE BEAUTY OF CITY

Extent of Victoria's Participation in Campaign to Stimulate Tourist Trade Undecided

Victoria will probably furnish $1,000 of the $14,500 which the Evergreen Playground Association will spend to promote tourist travel in the Puget Sound area during the coming season, according to George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

Of the amount to be spent, Vancouver and Seattle will contribute $6,000 each and Tacoma $1,500. The extent to which Victoria will participate will depend upon the size of the grant the Publicity Bureau receives from the city, he said. If no grant is made, Victoria will be unable to make a contribution and will receive no advertising. Though grants have been based upon the sizes of the centres concerned, all cities will share equally in newspaper advertising.

At a meeting in Seattle last week, the Evergreen Playground Association decided to carry advertisements in Walla Walla, Wenatchee, Yakima and Spokane, Wash.; Boise, Idaho Falls, Lewiston and Twin Falls, Idaho; Billings, Butte, Great Falls and Missoula, Mon., and Pendleton, Klamath Falls, Eugene, Salem, Bend and Portland, Ore.

California newspapers will carry a limited amount of copy. At the Seattle meeting E. G. Rowebottom, deputy minister of trade and industry, represented the British Columbia Government Travel Bureau. G. H. Stevens and Mr. Warren represented the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

According to Culbertson

Certain problems cannot be weighed on the scale of pure logic: the solution must be reached by a sort of safety-first policy. By this I mean that we must calculate the possible gain of one decision against the possible loss of another. Let us apply this philosophy to a specific hand.

The bidding

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	1 ♠	3 ♣	3 ♥
4 ♣	6 ♥ (final bid)

Neither North nor South distinguished himself in the bidding, to put it mildly! North should not have made what he obviously considered a forcing pass over the six hearts. It was very doubtful whether he could stand a double even if his partner chose to make it. As a matter of fact, North's three club bid had been none too logical. Since his hand was unsuited to anything but a club or a diamond contract, there was no reason for failing to jump all the way to game in clubs.

But although the issue was pretty well obscured by North's bidding, South should not have taken the chance that he did take in passing to six hearts. Of course he could not dream that North was void of spades and had such a beautiful fit, hence could not hope to make a grand slam in clubs, but nevertheless he should have made that bid as a safety measure. If East-West could fulfill their slam contract, the loss of North-South would be enormous, in the neighborhood of 1,500 points. If they were defeated, the gain would be only about 100 points added to the gain of not taking a sacrifice (presumably) at seven clubs. The disproportion here pointed strongly to the proper decision. Since North had failed to take the proper action, South, as the last one to speak for his side, should have outbid the opponents.

Of course, if East-West used the same correct philosophy they would go to a grand slam on their own account, but if they did, they would be down one trick, and if they did not, the result would be total victory for the North-South team.

LOAN CANVASS TO BEGIN ON MONDAY

Helpful Salesmen Well Equipped To Supply Information to Prospective Buyers

Following closely on the official opening Saturday of the second Victory Loan drive, the actual person-to-person canvass will get under way next Monday.

With the beginning of the canvass approximately 106 businessmen, thoroughly conversant with the details people want to know when buying bonds, will undertake the important function of visiting every resident in Greater Victoria.

Canvassers will work on a well-organized and carefully worked out plan whereby the city is divided into districts with a team covering each. Teams operate under the direction of group captains.

In his assignment each salesman will be expected to interview approximately 300 men and women over a three weeks' period.

QUALIFIED SALESMEN

Included among the men selected for this undertaking are representatives of insurance, real estate and automobile firms, hand picked because of their knowledge of this kind of work. They will readily explain all features of the loan, including small points with which the prospective investor may be unfamiliar.

Streaming that Victory Loan salesmen must concentrate their efforts, officials in charge of the campaign urge citizens to receive them in a co-operative spirit and to accord them the reception that their responsibility justifies.

CANTONESE JOINS FOR ACTIVE SERVICE

HALIFAX, Feb. 11 (CP).—Gunner Howard Soong, twenty-two-year-old son of a former Cantonese banker now believed to be in Hongkong, took the oath of allegiance for active service with the Canadian Army here yesterday and pledged himself to "fight for China's allies." In addition to his father, his two brothers and four sisters in the Orient are unreported since the fall of Hongkong.

Remember Without Wanting

By MARGARET GORMAN NICHOLS

(Copyright, 1942, by Margaret Gorman Nichols)

CHAPTER XXII

During those last two weeks in December Judith wanted to marry Max. . . . With each of his brief, loving notes, she knew how intensely she wanted to marry him. Her work, her fine ideas of independence? She could go on with her work, of course, but independence no longer mattered. Only Max mattered, the physical, tangible Max.

She wrote to him each evening and dropped the letter in the box on her way to the office in the morning. Hers were not notes but letters into which with a facility that amazed her she poured the best of her thoughts and feelings for him. . . . The trained hands of the artist turned out consistently good work. The trained hands, but not the mind, nor the heart. Only Max could reach her mind and heart now. For Max had become her whole world.

The letter to him was finished, a long, endearing one, and she was trying to read in bed when Emily came in from another evening of bridge with Ames and Phyllis and, of course, Tim.

"How are Ames and Phyllis?

And Emily looked at her and shook her brown head. "Phyllis doesn't improve as a housewife. It's 'Ames, darling, will you put on the coffee? Ames, empty the ash trays, dear . . . . Oh, did I do something wrong on the last play? I wasn't paying attention. . . . Where did I put the cigarettes, Ames?' . . . The ones who aren't married see the mistakes in the ones who are. Phyllis seems to think that marriage is one long glorious holiday and that when you marry, you get out of doing the things you don't like to do, and that your husband should give until it hurts. Ames is a dear. He loves having a place of his own and being host. Mixing a drink is a ritual with him. Maybe I'm wrong, Judith, but Phyllis fails to do the little things I'd like to do, the little things I'd feel were my special jobs."

Judith smiled. Then she asked, "Have you made up your mind about going home for Christmas? I wish you'd go."

"No. I'm—I'm not going home and I'm not going home with you. I'm——" There was no happiness in her look, no enthusiasm in her voice. "I'm going to meet Tim's family on Christmas night. It's their annual open house and the little girl from the prairies is going to see how the fashionable world lives.

"Tim doesn't understand. He takes it all for granted. So on Christmas night I'm going to see the kind of life they'll bring him back to when they think he's played around enough with girls like me. I'm waiting for the end. It's like sitting on a powder keg. I hope I can take it."

Seeing the letter addressed to Max, she smiled rather sadly. "Another letter? Are you so sure of him?"

"Yes, and of myself. I want to marry him, Emily. I've known it since he left and missing him is one long continuous ache. So a man becomes all-important and I'll have to take back my very modern theories on the emancipated woman. Men have given us a vote, an education, jobs and the privilege of sitting in a bar, but they haven't changed our natures. I was thinking [illegible] woman is a deep, intuitive being who looks, sometimes without being aware of looking, for a man to be all-important. Her very nature decides for her. Her heart, her body and not her mind. Even if she has a superior mind, it can't win against her body and her heart."

Emily looked at her a moment before she said, "But men are not like that. Their minds, their better judgments, rule them in most cases. They're less emotional so that their minds can rule them. How many men have given security and family for love? Not many. A lot of women have and more would if men were willing to make the sacrifice. . . . I'm so tired!"

* * * * *

The lawn before the Barth home in Clinton had been raked clean of leaves and now small patches of snow covered the brown barrenness. Seeing Max's gift on her arm, a charm bracelet, Judith pressed her finger to the bell late that Christmas Eve, and when the door opened she was greeted by shouts of Harriet's little boys and her mother's beaming face.

If she and Max were married, he would be with her, she thought, pressing her cold face against her mother's warm one as the little boys tugged at her coat. But Max here . . . It seemed foreign to visualize the suave Max in this domestic setting. Would he be bored or amused?

Walter looked up with grave brown eyes.

"Santa Claus is coming tonight!"

"Not if you and Bill don't go to bed," Mrs. Barth said. "They're so excited, Judith. Take off your things, dear. Your father and Larry and Harriet have gone out to do some last-minute shopping for the tree."

Not ever before had Judith dropped to her knees to embrace her nephews. But something in their upturned faces drew her and she put her arms around them, kissing their flushed cheeks. Sons . . . Harriet's sons . . . Max's sons? A miniature Max? She felt suddenly as though she were going to cry.

Mrs. Barth said, "Now my two darlings are going to bed."

Not until Bessie, the aroma of her pies permeating the house, had gone and the tree had been trimmed did the family settle down to conversation.

TWENTY SURVIVE TANKER SINKING

Twenty-Eight Men Missing After Ship Torpedoed—Are Mostly Canadians

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Feb. 11 (CP).—Eighteen Canadian and two British survivors of a torpedoed oil tanker have been brought to this port after spending three nights and two days in a lifeboat, and they reported another twenty-eight members of the crew—mostly Canadians—still unaccounted for.

The survivors all came from Eastern Canada, but one of the men listed as a member of the crew and not as one of the survivors was John White, 1704 West Fifty-Eighth Avenue, Vancouver, whose next of kin was given as Mrs. J. White. It was explained in connection with the crew list that it was not certain that all were aboard the ship at the time she was torpedoed.
